Two Kennedy Babies Buried At Arlington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two infant children of President Kennedy who preceded him in death now lie beside their father in Arlington National Cemetery.

The bodies of the infants were flown to Washington Wednesday aboard the family plane Caroline and reinterred on either side of the late President's grave Wednesday night — presumably by decision of his widow, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy.

The children are Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, who was born prematurely Aug. 7 and died within 40 hours, and a baby girl born dead in 1956. The boy had been buried at Brookline, Mass., and the girl at Newport, R.I.

Mrs. Kennedy and the late President's brothers, Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, D-Mass., and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, attended the brief graveside rites.

Sen. Kennedy accompanied the bodies on the flight to Washington. Mrs. Kennedy and her children, Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3, returned to the White House Sunday night after spending Thanksgiving with other members of the Kennedy family at Hyannis Port, Mass.

The burial service was held between 8:45 and 9 p.m., long after the cemetery had closed for the night and visitors to the President's grave had departed.

Bishop Philip Hannan, auxiliary bishop of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of Washington, presided. He had delivered a tribute to the President at Kennedy's funeral service Nov. 25.

Announcement of the reinterment was made by Pierre Salinger, who said he acted as a representative of the Kennedy family rather than as White House press secretary.

Salinger said that some three acres of the cemetery—which is reserved for American servicemen, their wives and their children—had been "turned over to the Kennedy family."

President Calls For Support Of Labor, Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has asked labor and industry to back his drive for enactment of legislation proposed by President Kennedy and now stalled in Congress.

"I am the President, but I can do nothing without the people," Johnson told the AFL-CIO Executive Committee Wednesday. "You represent the people. I need you and I want you by my side."

Less than an hour later he went before the Business Advisory Council with this pledge:

"This administration wants to help you. We are not pro-labor, or pro-business or pro-any special sector. We are pro what is best for America.

Tariff Boosts Ordered

"I am the only President you have," Johnson told some 60 business leaders, Cabinet members and economic advisers. "If you would have me fail, then you fail, for the country fails."

Johnson's speeches to union and industry leaders climaxed a busy White House day during which he also:

—Ordered tariff boosts of $23.9 million a year on five commodities in retaliation for increased import levies on U.S. poultry shipped to member nations of the European Economic Community.

—Announced he will confer Jan. 22 with Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson of Canada.

—Slipped out of the White House to spend a half hour at a Capitol luncheon of the Texas congressional delegation.

Coatless despite the December chill, Johnson went to the White House rose garden to tell some 40 union leaders and government officials:

"The No. 1 priority today and tomorrow is more jobs and the goal of this administration is 75 million jobs in America." That would be an increase of 5 million jobs. Johnson set no target date for that goal.

Talked Too Long

"This is our dominant, relentless domestic problem and we have to face it head on," Johnson said. "The tax cut bill now languishing in Congress is the most massive single attack we can make on this problem."

Johnson said with the civil rights bill denied a hearing by the House Rules Committee "the endless abrasion of delay, neglect and indifference have rubbed raw the national conscience.

"We've talked too long, done too little, and all of it too late," Johnson told the AFL-CIO officials.

Johnson also spoke of the Kennedy plan for medical care for the aged financed by Social Security. He said it "cries out for enactment."

Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, promised "the President will have our unqualified and wholehearted support in his effort to get America moving forward."

Halleck Rides With President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson picked up Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the House Republican leader, as he drove into town this morning, and gave him a ride to the White House.

The presidential motorcade, which left the Johnson home in Spring Valley at 8:46 a.m., paused momentarily at the residence of the GOP legislator. A man on the sidewalk quickly climbed in beside Johnson in the back seat of his limousine.

The White House disclosed the passenger's identity after Johnson arrived there at 8:59 a.m.

Socialists Join Italian Cabinet

ROME (AP) — Premier Aldo Moro and his new center-left Cabinet were sworn in today, giving Italy a four-party coalition government, including Socialists for the first time in 16 years.

It was Italy's 25th post-Fascist government.

As the premier took the oath before President Antonio Segni, there was speculation whether the uneasy alliance patched together with such difficulty could stand much strain.

Formation of the four-party coalition ended a political crisis that began in April when the ruling Christian Democrats suffered a setback and the Communists gained a million votes in the election of a new Parliament.

For 13 months before the election, Christian Democratic Premier Amintore Fanfani headed a center-left government suppported by the Socialists, but the latter stayed out of the Cabinet. The election results strengthened a Socialist faction that wanted the party to return to its traditional alliance with Italy's big Communist party. But, Socialist leader Pietro Nenni finally brought the party back into alliance with the Christian Democrats.

Other parties in the coalition are Giuseppe Saragat's Democratic Socialists and the Republicans. They were the other two members of Fanfani's coalition.

The new government is pledged to support the North Atlantic Treaty Organizaton in foreign affairs and to begin new economic planning.

Moro, a 47-year-old law professor and Christian Democratic leader, is expected to survive his first parliamentary test when he seeks a vote of confidence next week.

The four parties hold 385 of the 629 seats in the Chamber of Deputies, a majority of 141. But Socialist defections may reduce the majority.

The Christian Democrats — Italy's largest party—dominate the 26-member Cabinet with 16 posts, including the premiership. The Socialists have six members, the Democratic Socialists three and the Republicans one.

Houghton Fighter Pilot Missing In Atlantic Crash

MYRTLE BEACH, S. C. (AP) —The Air Force has identified the missing pilot of a jet fighter that crashed into the Atlantic Tuesday as Lt. John S. Weiderman, 25, of Houghton, Mich.

Col. Victor Sampson, commander of Myrtle Beach Air Force Base, said an air-sea search for Weiderman, who was believed to have ejected before the plane crashed, was continuing.

Weiderman has been in the Air Force since 1961. He is married to the former Mary Ann Ferris of Houghton.

Dry Law Died 30 Years Ago

NEW YORK (AP) — If you want to drink to something today, how about the 30th anniversary of the 21st Amendment?

Nearly 14 years of prohibition ended Dec. 5, 1933, when Utah became the 36th state to ratify the amendment.

As the gavel fell in Salt Lake City, customers were lined up four deep at bars across the country.

The 21st Amendment returned control of alcoholic beverages to the states. Today Mississippi is the only one which forbids liquor sales.

Assassin Kills Laos Official

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma's intelligence chief, Col. Leuang, was assassinated early today as he arrived at his home on the outskirts of Vientiane.

Leuang was the chief of the Deuxieme (second) Bureau, the coalition government's intelligence section. Like Prince Souvanna, he was a member of the neutralist faction which in theory governs Laos in coalition with the right wing and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao.

There was no immediate indication of the motive for the slaying.

The assassins reportedly opened fire on Leuang's automobile with at least three automatic weapons. Leuang apparently was killed instantly.

The killers fired about 100 yards away from the colonel's house, which is in an isolated area overlooking rice fields.

Audit Reveals Tab Needed On College Funds

LANSING (AP)—Auditor General Billie Farnum says an audit of seven state universities and colleges reveals a need for stronger internal controls on how they spend money—and for stricter adherence to state laws and regulations.

Farnum's bulky report, submitted to the Legislature as the special session opened, contained a list of funds shortages and one case of misused funds, revealed the audit.

It also carried a series of recommendations by Farnum for improving what he called "business practices" at tax-supported institutions.

New Law Suggested

The annual audit dealt with financial affairs at all state institutions of higher learning except the three largest, University of Michigan, Michigan State University and Wayne State University.

As constitutionally self-governing bodies, these three are not required to undergo an annual audit by the state, but only file a report on total spending of money appropriated the previous year.

Farnum indicated, however, that he is considering a plan to audit at least one of the big three universities, despite some questions concerning his legal power.

Noting that all state universities will become self-governing under the new Constitution, Farnum said the Legilature, in implementing the document, should enact a law designed to keep closer tabs on their business and maintenance spending.

Tech Uses $29,000

Northern Michigan University was cited in Farnum's report for having overspent its 1962-63 legislative appropriation by $3,781.

The most spectacular disclosure was the alleged misuse of some $29,000 in operating and maintenance funds by Michigan Tech to renovate a new home for its president at Houghton.

Farnum said the school violated the rules by failing to obtain a state work order and secure the approval of the State Administrative Board for the work.

Michigan Tech President James R. Van Pelt said, "when work was begun to prepare this house for occupancy, it was believed mere maintenance would be sufficient. As the project developed, the need for additional work was gradually ralized."

"There is always a question whether any given job is really remodeling or merely maintenance," Van Pelt added. He noted that work orders are not required for maintenance proj-

Van Pelt Statement

HOUGHTON — "Whether Michigan Tech has misuned $29,000 in operating funds to remodel the president's residence depends on the interpretation of the word "maintenance'," Dr. J. R. Van Pelt, president of the college, said Wednesday.

Dr. Van Pelt's statement was made in response to published newspaper stories quoting Auditor General Billie Farnum. The stories said Michigan Tech "apparently illegally spent" $29,000 to pay college maintenance workers to renovate a home for use by the president. They also said the college had not obtained a work order for the project or approval by the administrative board.

The text of Dr. Van Pelt's statement said:

"The terms of employment of the Michigan Tech president include provision of a suitable house. This house is not only used as a residence but for entertaining of an official nature and for similar uses.

"In the spring of 1962 the residence used by the president was scheduled to be torn down, and was razed that fall to clear the site for construction of a new academic building, Fisher Hall.

Remodeling

"A 50-year-old house, located on a tract of land already owned by the college and earmarked for long-range academic use, was then selected

Shooting Brazil Senator Kills The Wrong Man

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — A senator fired three shots at an opponent in Brazil's Senate chamber Wednesday and missed his target, but accidentally killed a third lawmaker.

The innocent victim was Sen. Jose Cairala, who died while undergoing surgery.

Witnesses said De Melo whipped out a pistol and took aim from the speaker's platform at Sen. Silvestre Pericles.

Pericles, 67, a man known for his violent temper, had said he would shoot De Melo if he rose to speak. Both are from the northeast state of Alagoas, which has a reputation for stormy politics. Pericles, a member of the Senate since 1957, had opposed the election of De Melo, a freshman.

Sen. Joao Agripino told newsmen he grabbed Pericles, who was about to return the fire, and disarmed him.

"His revolver was fully loaded and hadn't been fired," Agripino said.

Senate sources said the feud was personal with no bearing on national politics. De Melo is a member of the conservative Christian Democratic party. Pericles belongs to President Joao Goulart's leftist Labor party.

Cairala had not been involved in the dispute, sources said.

New Aquarium Draws 2 Million In Five Months

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The fish life at remodeled Steinhart Aquarium has drawn more than two million visitors in five months, astonished officials reported today.

A prime attractions at the aquarium are the tidepool tanks, filled with unusual forms of non-vertebrate life. Included are huge sea anemones that catch unwary fish and devour them as spectators watch.

Venezuela Reds Free Chenault

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Col. James K. Chenault of Sherman, Tex., kidnaped by pro-Communist terrorists eight days ago, was released today.

Chenault, 47, of Sherman, Tex., was unharmed. He is deputy chief of the U.S. military mission in Venezuela.

The pro-Communist Armed Forces for National Liberation —FALN—kidnaped him in front of his home last Wednesday in an attempt to focus international headlines on its campaign to sabotage the presidential elections last Sunday.

The terrorist campaign was a failure. A record number of Venezuelans turned out to vote.

The FALN in telephone calls to Caracas newspapers had said it would not harm the American officer and would release him on Saturday, the day before the election. But it continued to hold him after the voting.

The U.S. Embassy said Chenault's kidnapers took him to a point a few blocks from his home and he walked from there. He reached home at 6 a.m. and telephoned embassy officials at once.

The FALN widened its campaign of violence to include British targets. Previously the terrorists had concentrated on U.S. interests and Venezuelan government installations.

The terrorists machine-gunned the residence of the British ambassador Wednesday and bombed a British automobile agency.

No one was injured in either attack. Ambassador Sir Douglas Busk was away when the attack occurred. The motor company's store front was shattered and several automobiles damaged.

Pilot Of U2 Not Shot Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — After examining its records, Air Force investigators have ruled out the possibility that a U2 reconnaissance plane was shot down over the Gulf of Mexico two weeks ago.

However, they still have not pinpointed what caused the U2 to crash into the Gulf some 40 miles northwest of Key West, Fla., apparently after completing a high altitude photo reconnaissance mission over Cuba.

The pilot, Air Force Capt. Joe G. Hyde Jr. of La Grange, Ga., has been declared dead, although his body has not been recovered. The wreckage of the U2 was retrieved from waters 100 feet deep and has ben examined by members of an accident investigation board set up by the Strategic Air Command.

The Air Force told The Associated Press today the remains of the plane showed no evidence of rocket hits or rents from bullet, cannon or other gunfire.

The cause of the U2's loss is not yet known. The Air Force said the accident is still under investigation.

Wayne U. Asks For $100,000 Research Grant

LANSING (AP)—Rep Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, said today he will ask approval in the current special session for $416,555 in academic grants for research in improving Michigan's economy.

Wayne State University asked Wednesday for the lion's share of this fund, $100,00, for the most comprehensive proposal presented to the economic development committee Bursley heads.

The Wayne proposal, one of 11 put forward by six state colleges and universities, is for establishment of a center for application of science and technology and an institute for applied science.

Dr. Randall Whaley, a Wayne vice president, predicted Wayne research would produce new business and jobs within 12 months.

Bursley's money resolution, which would include the proposals of all six schools, would be under terms of a special $750,000 research appropriation made by the Legislature last spring. It would not require the governor's signature.

The University of Michigan has two proposals calling for a total of $75,00 to make an "econometric model," or statistical picture of Michigan's economy and to improve the training of private developers and local economic promoters.

Michigan State University offered five programs totaling $76,040 on specific topics dealing with new egg products, packaging, computers, a color sensing device and a trade development policy.

Rules Ignored To Rush Bills On Constitution

LANSING (AP) — Under its own schedule calling for adjournment in two weeks, the Legislature set a brisk pace today for setting the lawbooks in line with Michigan's new Constitution.

With normal rules of procedure suspended, the House was ready today for a possible vote on three election bills, and 33 others, plus four dealing with education, were on the calendar.

The Senate also streamlined its rules. There was a possibility it could bring some measures to a vote today as well.

Agenda Expanded

The mood of lawmakers seem to answer Gov. George Romney's request that "excessive partisanship and personal rancor" be set aside in the interests of quick action.

Romney, meanwhile, said he will expand the special session call to include action on a proposed $35 million complex of of state office buildings near the capitol.

At the request of a joint House-Senate committee, Romney agreed to seek action on on appropriations for starting a $6.7 million highway building, a $6.5 million revenue building, off-street parking facilities and land acquisition for a supreme court building.

Up for a possible vote in the House today was a bill providing for changes in laws governing eligibility, nomination, election and terms of the governor and lieutenant governor.

Tight Schedule Set

Also slated for action were to abolish the elective offices of auditor general and state treasurer and lengthen terms of the attorney general and secretary of state from two to four years.

A third bill would define local residence requirements for township voters.

The schedule, which originated with Sen. John Fitzgerald, R-Grand Ledge, sailed through both houses within an hour.

It sets deadlines of Tuesday for bill introduction, Wednesday for final passage of bills in their house of origin, Dec. 17 for passage in the other house, and noon Dec. 19 for final adjournment.

This is a day earlier than previous estimates on adjournment. The schedule allows a day and a half for conference committees to iron out any differences between the two houses on legislation.

AID BILL PUSHED

LANSING (AP)—A Democratic lawmaker, Rep. Alexander Petri of Ecorse, has formally asked that the special legislative session take up the question of aid to dependent children of the unemployed (ADC-U).

In a resolution introduced Wednesday, Petri urged Gov. Gov. George Romney to expand the scope of the special session so the legislature can enact a bill qualifying Michigan for federal funds in the ADC-U program.

"Michigan loses $50,000 each day that we are not qualified and these children remain hungry and unclothed," Petri said.

Romney has said that he wants the legislature to act on ADC-U in its 1964 session.

FEE LOSS NOTED

LANSING (AP)—A bill would wipe out the state law requiring Michigan firms to reincorporate every 30 years and pay a franchise fee is awaiting action in the Legislature.

Although it was introduced as a bill to help implement the new constitution—and was listed in Gov. George Romney's message on that subject—there is no demand in the document that such legislation be passed.

There was uncertainty Wednesday over how much the bill, if passed, would cost the state in the loss of fees paid by companies to reincorporate at the end of the 30-year period.

Bell Pays Most

One aide to Romney said he thought the total for some 99 profit companies and 31 non-

Audit Reveals Tab Needed On College Funds

LANSING (AP)—Auditor General Billie Farnum says an audit of seven state universities and colleges reveals a need for stronger internal controls on how they spend money—and for stricter adherence to state laws and regulations.

Farnum's bulky report, submitted to the Legislature as the special session opened, contained a list of funds shortages and one case of misused funds, revealed the audit.

It also carried a series of recommendations by Farnum for improving what he called "business practices" at tax-supported institutions.

New Law Suggested

The annual audit dealt with financial affairs at all state institutions of higher learning except the three largest, University of Michigan, Michigan State University and Wayne State University.

As constitutionally self-governing bodies, these three are not required to undergo an annual audit by the state, but only file a report on total spending of money appropriated the previous year.

Farnum indicated, however, that he is considering a plan to audit at least one of the big three universities, despite some questions concerning his legal power.

Noting that all state universities will become self-governing under the new Constitution, Farnum said the Legislature, in implementing the document, should enact a law designed to keep closer tabs on their business and maintenance spending.

Tech Uses $29,000

Northern Michigan University was cited in Farnum's report for having overspent its 1962-63 legislative appropriation by $3,781.

The most spectacular disclosure was the alleged misuse of some $29,000 in operating and maintenance funds by Michigan Tech to renovate a new home for its president at Houghton.

Farnum said the school violated the rules by failing to obtain a state work order and secure the approval of the State Administrative Board for the work.

Michigan Tech President James R. Van Pelt said, "when work was begun to prepare this house for occupancy, it was believed mere maintenance would be sufficient. As the project developed, the need for additional work was gradually ralized."

"There is always a question whether any given job is really remodeling or merely maintenance," Van Pelt added. He noted that work orders are not required for maintenance proj-

Van Pelt Statement

HOUGHTON — "Whether Michigan Tech has misuned $29,000 in operating funds to remodel the president's residence depends on the interpretation of the word "maintenance'," Dr. J. R. Van Pelt, president of the college, said Wednesday.

Dr. Van Pelt's statement was made in response to published newspaper stories quoting Auditor General Billie Farnum. The stories said Michigan Tech "apparently illegally spent" $29,000 to pay college maintenance workers to renovate a home for use by the president. They also said the college had not obtained a work order for the project or approval by the administrative board.

The text of Dr. Van Pelt's statement said:

"The terms of employment of the Michigan Tech president include provision of a suitable house. This house is not only used as a residence but for entertaining of an official nature and for similar uses.

"In the spring of 1962 the residence used by the president was scheduled to be torn down, and was razed that fall to clear the site for construction of a new academic building, Fisher Hall.

Remodeling

"A 50-year-old house, located on a tract of land already owned by the college and earmarked for long-range academic use, was then selected

Shooting Brazil Senator Kills The Wrong Man

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — A senator fired three shots at an opponent in Brazil's Senate chamber Wednesday and missed his target, but accidentally killed a third lawmaker.

The innocent victim was Sen. Jose Cairala, who died while undergoing surgery.

Witnesses said De Melo whipped out a pistol and took aim from the speaker's platform at Sen. Silvestre Pericles.

Pericles, 67, a man known for his violent temper, had said he would shoot De Melo if he rose to speak. Both are from the northeast state of Alagoas, which has a reputation for stormy politics. Pericles, a member of the Senate since 1957, had opposed the election of De Melo, a freshman.

Sen. Joao Agripino told newsmen he grabbed Pericles, who was about to return the fire, and disarmed him.

"His revolver was fully loaded and hadn't been fired," Agripino said.

Senate sources said the feud was personal with no bearing on national politics. De Melo is a member of the conservative Christian Democratic party. Pericles belongs to President Joao Goulart's leftist Labor party.

Cairala had not been involved in the dispute, sources said.

New Aquarium Draws 2 Million In Five Months

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The fish life at remodeled Steinhart Aquarium has drawn more than two million visitors in five months, astonished officials reported today.

A prime attractions at the aquarium are the tidepool tanks, filled with unusual forms of non-vertebrate life. Included are huge sea anemones that catch unwary fish and devour them as spectators watch.

Venezuela Reds Free Chenault

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Col. James K. Chenault of Sherman, Tex., kidnaped by pro-Communist terrorists eight days ago, was released today.

Chenault, 47, of Sherman, Tex., was unharmed. He is deputy chief of the U.S. military mission in Venezuela.

The pro-Communist Armed Forces for National Liberation —FALN—kidnaped him in front of his home last Wednesday in an attempt to focus international headlines on its campaign to sabotage the presidential elections last Sunday.

The terrorist campaign was a failure. A record number of Venezuelans turned out to vote.

The FALN in telephone calls to Caracas newspapers had said it would not harm the American officer and would release him on Saturday, the day before the election. But it continued to hold him after the voting.

The U.S. Embassy said Chenault's kidnapers took him to a point a few blocks from his home and he walked from there. He reached home at 6 a.m. and telephoned embassy officials at once.

The FALN widened its campaign of violence to include British targets. Previously the terrorists had concentrated on U.S. interests and Venezuelan government installations.

The terrorists machine-gunned the residence of the British ambassador Wednesday and bombed a British automobile agency.

No one was injured in either attack. Ambassador Sir Douglas Busk was away when the attack occurred. The motor company's store front was shattered and several automobiles damaged.

Pilot Of U2 Not Shot Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — After examining its records, Air Force investigators have ruled out the possibility that a U2 reconnaissance plane was shot down over the Gulf of Mexico two weeks ago.

However, they still have not pinpointed what caused the U2 to crash into the Gulf some 40 miles northwest of Key West, Fla., apparently after completing a high altitude photo reconnaissance mission over Cuba.

The pilot, Air Force Capt. Joe G. Hyde Jr. of La Grange, Ga., has been declared dead, although his body has not been recovered. The wreckage of the U2 was retrieved from waters 100 feet deep and has ben examined by members of an accident investigation board set up by the Strategic Air Command.

The Air Force told The Associated Press today the remains of the plane showed no evidence of rocket hits or rents from bullet, cannon or other gunfire.

The cause of the U2's loss is not yet known. The Air Force said the accident is still under investigation.

Wayne U. Asks For $100,000 Research Grant

LANSING (AP)—Rep Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, said today he will ask approval in the current special session for $416,555 in academic grants for research in improving Michigan's economy.

Wayne State University asked Wednesday for the lion's share of this fund, $100,00, for the most comprehensive proposal presented to the economic development committee Bursley heads.

The Wayne proposal, one of 11 put forward by six state colleges and universities, is for establishment of a center for application of science and technology and an institute for applied science.

Dr. Randall Whaley, a Wayne vice president, predicted Wayne research would produce new business and jobs within 12 months.

Bursley's money resolution, which would include the proposals of all six schools, would be under terms of a special $750,000 research appropriation made by the Legislature last spring. It would not require the governor's signature.

The University of Michigan has two proposals calling for a total of $75,00 to make an "econometric model," or statistical picture of Michigan's economy and to improve the training of private developers and local economic promoters.

Michigan State University offered five programs totaling $76,040 on specific topics dealing with new egg products, packaging, computers, a color sensing device and a trade development policy.

Rules Ignored To Rush Bills On Constitution

LANSING (AP) — Under its own schedule calling for adjournment in two weeks, the Legislature set a brisk pace today for setting the lawbooks in line with Michigan's new Constitution.

With normal rules of procedure suspended, the House was ready today for a possible vote on three election bills, and 33 others, plus four dealing with education, were on the calendar.

The Senate also streamlined its rules. There was a possibility it could bring some measures to a vote today as well.

Agenda Expanded

The mood of lawmakers seem to answer Gov. George Romney's request that "excessive partisanship and personal rancor" be set aside in the interests of quick action.

Romney, meanwhile, said he will expand the special session call to include action on a proposed $35 million complex of of state office buildings near the capitol.

At the request of a joint House-Senate committee, Romney agreed to seek action on on appropriations for starting a $6.7 million highway building, a $6.5 million revenue building, off-street parking facilities and land acquisition for a supreme court building.

Up for a possible vote in the House today was a bill providing for changes in laws governing eligibility, nomination, election and terms of the governor and lieutenant governor.

Tight Schedule Set

Also slated for action were to abolish the elective offices of auditor general and state treasurer and lengthen terms of the attorney general and secretary of state from two to four years.

A third bill would define local residence requirements for township voters.

The schedule, which originated with Sen. John Fitzgerald, R-Grand Ledge, sailed through both houses within an hour.

It sets deadlines of Tuesday for bill introduction, Wednesday for final passage of bills in their house of origin, Dec. 17 for passage in the other house, and noon Dec. 19 for final adjournment.

This is a day earlier than previous estimates on adjournment. The schedule allows a day and a half for conference committees to iron out any differences between the two houses on legislation.

AID BILL PUSHED

LANSING (AP)—A Democratic lawmaker, Rep. Alexander Petri of Ecorse, has formally asked that the special legislative session take up the question of aid to dependent children of the unemployed (ADC-U).

In a resolution introduced Wednesday, Petri urged Gov. Gov. George Romney to expand the scope of the special session so the legislature can enact a bill qualifying Michigan for federal funds in the ADC-U program.

"Michigan loses $50,000 each day that we are not qualified and these children remain hungry and unclothed," Petri said.

Romney has said that he wants the legislature to act on ADC-U in its 1964 session.

FEE LOSS NOTED

LANSING (AP)—A bill would wipe out the state law requiring Michigan firms to reincorporate every 30 years and pay a franchise fee is awaiting action in the Legislature.

Although it was introduced as a bill to help implement the new constitution—and was listed in Gov. George Romney's message on that subject—there is no demand in the document that such legislation be passed.

There was uncertainty Wednesday over how much the bill, if passed, would cost the state in the loss of fees paid by companies to reincorporate at the end of the 30-year period.

Bell Pays Most

One aide to Romney said he thought the total for some 99 profit companies and 31 non-

Ask Recheck On Petition

Residents of Lake Shore Drive from Sylvan Point to 25th Ave. So., a distance of about two and one-half blocks, who signed petitions for improvement of Lake Shore Drive will be rechecked on their position in the matter.

Originally the signers asked for Lake Shore Drive to be improved with drainage, curb and gutter and pavement. Some of them more recently have signed a counter-petition asking that the street just be graded and black-topped.

The most recent petition was circulated by Roy A. Olson, 2520 Lake Shore Drive and includes signatures of persons outside as well as within the Sylvan Point to 25th Ave. area.

Olson told the Council last night that his petition was circulated for the purpose of stopping the original project, which includes drainage structures the city holds to be necessary for satisfactory improvement. The Councilmen told Olson they were not going to settle for an unsatisfactory job for which they would be criticized and that would require later correction at more cost.

City Manager George Harvey told Olson that if the intention of the signers is to stop the improvement job, the city has other locations where funds are needed to build better streets. Names of the petition signers are to be rechecked by the city to determine what they want.

In other business the City Council approved an appropriation of $50 to cooperate with the Lions Club in its annual Christmas Lighting Contest.

Promised consideration at the next meeting on requests of the local Committee on Aging for a city contribution of utilities to a center where older persons may gather in a now vacant building on Ludington St.

EMPTY AND QUIET were the classrooms and corridors of the Escanaba Area Public High School at 1 p.m. Wednesday. Outside law enforcement officers and others waited. There was no blast of a bomb, as had been threatened earlier Thursday by an anonymous telephone caller to police. Today school resumed on schedule. (Daily Press Photo)

Question Boys In Bomb Hoax

Escanaba police have questioned two juvenile boys in their investigation of a bomb threat hoax that closed Escanaba Area Public High School Wednesday, and one of the boys will receive a polygraph test on Friday.

Because they are juveniles the names are withheld by authorities.

Capt. Joseph Corcoran of the Escanaba Police Department will escort the one youth to Marquette on Friday where the lie detector test will be given by Michigan State Police at the regional headquarters. Parents of both boys consented to the tests.

The boys were together Wednesday morning and drove about for a time. They told officers they started for Marquette and then returned to Escanaba later in the morning. Officers said they were seen in a car in the vicinity of the Area High School.

The bomb threat "prank" started with a telephone call received by Escanaba police at 7:56 a. m. Wednesday. The voice said that a bomb was set to go off in the Senior High School at 1 p. m.

Police advised school officials of the threat. The students were dismissed from classes for the day while a thorough search was made of the building.

There were two or three such "pranks" at Iron Mountain earlier this year, but this is the first time it has ever occurred in any school system with which he was associated, said Supt. Walter Bright.

"The cold logic in a situation like this is that if a person really intended to blow up a building it is unlikely he would warn authorities ahead of time," said the superintendent. "But there is always the one possibility that you are dealing with a demented person who does not think as others do, and so no chances can be taken."

In addition to the cost and the loss of educational time, the school superintendent noted the possibility that with students released in a rush as they were, an accident on the street or highway might follow.

"This could be directly attributed to the thoughtless person making the bomb threat," he added.

Mail At Once For Christmas

There's no such thing as being too early with your Christmas mailing, Escanaba Postmaster James E. Pryal said today.

In preparation for early mailing the Christmas shopping should be done, mailing lists for cards and presents checked and revised, and the packages mailed promptly.

"Don't worry about being too early—just mark them 'Do not open until Christmas,'" the postmaster suggested.

Purchase plenty of stamps now while the post office is not crowed. Buy Christmas cards at once and address them right away, separating them into out-of-town and local bundles.

The Postmaster recommended the new 5 cent Christmas stamps showing the National Christmas tree in Washington, D. C. Use of this stamp insures first-class mail treatment for cards meaning the card may contain personal messages and may be forwarded or returned free of extra charge.

To speed Christmas card handling, letter carriers and post offices will have free supplies available of "local" and "out-of-town" bands for Christmas Cards. Use of these to separate local and out-of-town cards will expedite delivery and assist the post office.

Parcels should be insured, well packaged and correctly addressed.

The postmaster emphasized that Zip Code can help insure against loss due to poor addressing for letters and parcels. The five-digit Zip code identifies one specific area. No other area has that same Zip Code number.

For example, if a letter is addressed to 'Mineola' and the state is left out or is illegible, we can tell from the Zip Code, if used, whether it goes to Mineola, Iowa, New York, Texas or Missouri, each of which have a city by that name," he said.

Ask Recheck On Petition

Residents of Lake Shore Drive from Sylvan Point to 25th Ave. So., a distance of about two and one-half blocks, who signed petitions for improvement of Lake Shore Drive will be rechecked on their position in the matter.

Originally the signers asked for Lake Shore Drive to be improved with drainage, curb and gutter and pavement. Some of them more recently have signed a counter-petition asking that the street just be graded and black-topped.

The most recent petition was circulated by Roy A. Olson, 2520 Lake Shore Drive and includes signatures of persons outside as well as within the Sylvan Point to 25th Ave. area.

Olson told the Council last night that his petition was circulated for the purpose of stopping the original project, which includes drainage structures the city holds to be necessary for satisfactory improvement. The Councilmen told Olson they were not going to settle for an unsatisfactory job for which they would be criticized and that would require later correction at more cost.

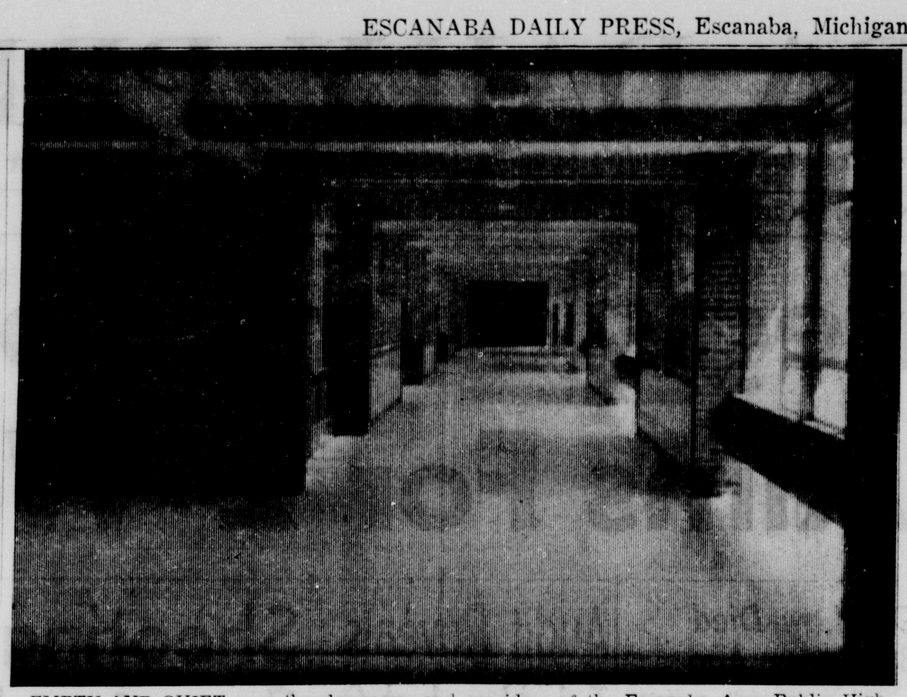
City Manager George Harvey told Olson that if the intention of the signers is to stop the improvement job, the city has other locations where funds are needed to build better streets. Names of the petition signers are to be rechecked by the city to determine what they want.

In other business the City Council approved an appropriation of $50 to cooperate with the Lions Club in its annual Christmas Lighting Contest.

Promised consideration at the next meeting on requests of the local Committee on Aging for a city contribution of utilities to a center where older persons may gather in a now vacant building on Ludington St.

Charles Follo and Leo Laviolette, representing the Committee on Aging, described the objectives of the group in establishing the center for the benefit of the community's senior citizens.

First man in U. S. history to become president by vice presidential succession was John Tyler, 10th president.



EMPTY AND QUIET were the classrooms and corridors of the Escanaba Area Public High School at 1 p.m. Wednesday. Outside law enforcement officers and others waited. There was no blast of a bomb, as had been threatened earlier Thursday by an anonymous telephone caller to police. Today school resumed on schedule. (Daily Press Photo)

Question Boys In Bomb Hoax

Escanaba police have questioned two juvenile boys in their investigation of a bomb threat hoax that closed Escanaba Area Public High School Wednesday, and one of the boys will receive a polygraph test on Friday.

Because they are juveniles the names are withheld by authorities.

Capt. Joseph Corcoran of the Escanaba Police Department will escort the one youth to Marquette on Friday where the lie detector test will be given by Michigan State Police at the regional headquarters. Parents of both boys consented to the tests.

The boys were together Wednesday morning and drove about for a time. They told officers they started for Marquette and then returned to Escanaba later in the morning. Officers said they were seen in a car in the vicinity of the Area High School.

The bomb threat "prank" started with a telephone call received by Escanaba police at 7:56 a. m. Wednesday. The voice said that a bomb was set to go off in the Senior High School at 1 p. m.

Police advised school officials of the threat. The students were dismissed from classes for the day while a thorough search was made of the building.

There were two or three such "pranks" at Iron Mountain earlier this year, but this is the first time it has ever occurred in any school system with which he was associated, said Supt. Walter Bright.

"The cold logic in a situation like this is that if a person really intended to blow up a building it is unlikely he would warn authorities ahead of time," said the superintendent. "But there is always the one possibility that you are dealing with a demented person who does not think as others do, and so no chances can be taken."

In addition to the cost and the loss of educational time, the school superintendent noted the possibility that with students released in a rush as they were, an accident on the street or highway might follow.

"This could be directly attributed to the thoughtless person making the bomb threat," he added.

Evan Olson Dies In Illinois

GLADSTONE—Evan G. Olson, 73, of Mount Prospect, Ill., a former resident of Gladstone, died at 11 a. m. Wednesday at Holy Family Hospital in that city where he had been a patient the past 10 days.

Mr. Olson was born in Sweden and came to Gladstone with his family at the age of two years. He attended the Gladstone schools and following his graduation was employed on the Soo Line docks as a ticket agent.

He moved to Chicago later and became the branch manager of Swift & Co., a position he held until the time of his retirement about eight years ago.

Survivors include his wife, Inez; two sons, Evan Jr. of Park Ridge, Ill., and Alden of Skokie, Ill.; five grandchildren; one brother, Einar of Gladstone; and two sisters, Mrs. Anna Bredahl and Mrs. Watler (Agnes) Erickson, both of Gladstone.

Funeral services will be conducted at Mount Prospect on Friday. Burial will be in that city.

Mail At Once For Christmas

There's no such thing as being too early with your Christmas mailing, Escanaba Postmaster James E. Pryal said today.

In preparation for early mailing the Christmas shopping should be done, mailing lists for cards and presents checked and revised, and the packages mailed promptly.

"Don't worry about being too early—just mark them 'Do not open until Christmas,'" the postmaster suggested.

Purchase plenty of stamps now while the post office is not crowed. Buy Christmas cards at once and address them right away, separating them into out-of-town and local bundles.

The Postmaster recommended the new 5 cent Christmas stamps showing the National Christmas tree in Washington, D. C. Use of this stamp insures first-class mail treatment for cards meaning the card may contain personal messages and may be forwarded or returned free of extra charge.

To speed Christmas card handling, letter carriers and post offices will have free supplies available of "local" and "out-of-town" bands for Christmas Cards. Use of these to separate local and out-of-town cards will expedite delivery and assist the post office.

Parcels should be insured, well packaged and correctly addressed.

The postmaster emphasized that Zip Code can help insure against loss due to poor addressing for letters and parcels. The five-digit Zip code identifies one specific area. No other area has that same Zip Code number.

For example, if a letter is addressed to 'Mineola' and the state is left out or is illegible, we can tell from the Zip Code, if used, whether it goes to Mineola, Iowa, New York, Texas or Missouri, each of which have a city by that name," he said.

Manager Ken Dorman of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association gets some nutty mail, but every once in a while there's a rich reward of hilarity or parise.

There was such a reward recently from a woman in Indianapolis who wrote to the Tourist Association:

"In our travels we have never seen such a unique custom as that in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan where you dress all your drunks in red in November."

The bomb scare at the Escanaba Area High School resulted in a search of the building and a hurry-up visit by the Escanaba Daily Press photographer to picture the process. When a flash camera popped to record the search one of the searchers, obviously keyed up to an expectancy of an explosion, left the floor in a compulsive little jump. He thought for a split second that he had found the bomb—and eternity.

The assassination of President Kennedy reminded someone that Leon Czolgosz, who assassinated President William McKinley worked as a lumberjack in camps near Seney about 1900. He is remembered as an agitator and left the Seney area and shot President McKinley Sept. 6, 1901 with a revolver hidden in a bandage around his right hand. The President died a week later and Czolgosz was hanged.

School Bomb Scare

The nation wondered when President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas what would so warp a human mind as to make it responsible for such a horrendous deed. People in Escanaba wondered about it.

But on Wednesday someone called the Escanaba Police and said that a bomb had been placed in the Escanaba Area High School, timed to detonate at 1 p.m. Children were sent home, the building was searched from footings to rafts, a great public expense was incurred and a great loss of teaching service caused.

But the assessment of the damage done leads off with consideration of the impact on the community. This was a wanton act which was very destructive to public trust and security. It created fear and uncertainty in a community and world which live on confidence.

One mad rifleman in Dallas and the free world lost its greatest leader and literally millions around the globe felt that their lives and their freedoms were less secure because madness was free to act.

One phone call in Escanaba and the city's secondary education system shuts up shop in fear that the faulty mind which prompted the call might actually conceive blasting of the building. All indications pointed to a hoax, but with human lives involved no such supposition is safe.

The mad event, unprecedented in the community, seems a part of the times. There have been several such incidents in Wisconsin in the past year and the airlines have been plagued by bomb scares. The possibility of such incidents increases with the complexity of the nation's social and communications structure, so that the public welfare is in ever greater peril of disruption by mad or wanton actions of crazed or irresponsible people.

This is a new threat to internal security which the law should appraise carefully and of which the public should be increasingly intolerant.

College Growth

Preliminary figures show all-time college enrollments throughout the nation have increased this fall by approximately 132,500. The total college enrollment will be near two and a half million.

This is encouraging. But we still are doing only half the job of opening the door of higher education to everyone who has college aspirations.

The enrollment figure is only 10 per cent of the population between the ages of 15 and 24. Of 609 schools, 301 reported either no change or a decrease in the number of freshmen admitted.

The difficulty of measuring up to citizenship in a democracy comes from the constant, day-by-day responsibility democracy calls for. We are tested in many ways large and small.

The college figures bring such a trial-by-action to the surface. Enlargement of colleges and universities to accommodate the population wave just now starting depends in a great part on the generosity of those who have gone before. Gifts and endowments from the alumni, the plowing back of some of the profits of their experience, is essential to expanding campus facilities.

The Doctor Says:

Diet Control Combats Diabetes

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Diabetes, like the motor car, is here to stay. This is because it is definitely an inherited disease. The number of persons who are capable of passing it on to their offspring is increasing.

The underlying cause is a deficiency in the ability of the pancreas to manufacture a sufficient amount of insulin. This is the hormone that enables the tissues, especially muscles, to transform the glucose in the blood into energy.

When insulin is lacking, the level of glucose in the blood rises. When it exceeds a certain level it is eliminated in the urine. Thus the carbohydrates and sugars in the diet are wasted and the muscles, deprived of nourishment, become weak.

High blood-sugar levels favor an increase in the acidity of the blood (acidosis). This acts as a poison and may result in a diabetic coma. Obese persons run a greater risk of developing diabetes than slender persons. Often all that is necessary to control a mild diabetes in an obese person is to bring his weight down.

In any diabetic a strict dietary control is important because an increase in calories from any source will cause an increase in the blood sugar.

If diet alone will not control the disease, a diabetic must take either insulin or one of the drugs such as tolbutamide that lowers the blood sugar level. Tolbutamide can be taken by mouth but it is not effective in all diabetics.

The number of calories in the diet is adjusted to the individual needs of a diabetic and the amount of either type of drug is carefully balanced. The reason the diabetic should not increase his desserts and then make a corresponding increase in his medicine is that this will cause him to gain weight again and make his diabetes harder to control.

Diabetics frequently are warned not to sit with their legs crossed because this impedes the circulation in one leg and anything that impedes the circulation also invites gangrene. Other complications include degenerative changes in the retina, kidneys, and arteries of the heart and brain.

BOMB! BEWARE

Perhaps this letter won't be read by the individual or individuals who precipitated the bomb scare at the Escanaba Area High School. But in my estimation, a joke or a reality, it is truly worse than one of the current "sick" jokes. But the last few weeks have proven that truth can be stranger than fiction. Sicker than the sickest of the sick jokes.

If the Escanaba Area High School were destroyed, how soon would Escanaba get the same amount of money to provide another building which would do equal credit to its community? Escanaba has had quite a reputation in educational circles. Perhaps it never occurred to the "bomber" how much millage would be needed and the number of years before the Bonifas gifts could be raised which were a part of the building of the new high school.

Why would anyone want to destroy a friendly place whose doors are open to all who want to come? Many first generation Americans are imbued with a gratitude for the educational opportunities America offers. The students were admonished to "be good in school! Do your best!"

School doors are not open to all students in many of the foreign countries. Scholarships are not available. There are no public-spirited individuals to endow the educational institutions. Examinations, slim purses and class weed out many capable students and bar them from a high school education.

European teachers and students who study in America are amazed at the counseling and guidance programs, vocational, commercial and acedemic schedules carried on in one unit. It is true that many of them are proud of the "book learning" they make their students achieve. America does as much, if percentages were compared and what is more important, America not only teaches books but it teaches its students—those who want to learn.

But more must be done. The schools need more support and interest from the public to help the "malcontents", the macabre "pranksters", the potential assassins of presidents, etc. Surely the situation will not be remedied if schools were destroyed, if classrooms were crowded, if classes were scattered all over the landscape or taught in makeshift conditions. Agree?

A hoax like this is extremely trying and ghastly when one is in the midst of 32 ten and 11 year-olds. I speak from experience, for I was the victim of a very cruel and ghastly hoax when I was 11. At first one cannot think rationally. All one does is to pray "Please, God, don't let it be true." The fifth and sixth graders in the high school behaved admirably after the initial scare.

This is my 16th year in Escanaba and I have enjoyed it much. But two incidents of violence in its truest sense of the word have occurred this year. In September I witnessed the aftermath of a Molotov bomb thrown against a neighbor's garage and now this. I am very concerned. My sincerest hope is that these incidents do not occur again because they are worse than the current sick jokes.

What will the people in Escanaba do about these incidents? Whose responsibility is it to see that Escanaba will not have any incidents like Dallas had?—Let's not laugh because truth has proven to be stranger than fiction. Will it help to belittle our schools, their administration, etc.

GROWING HATE

At East Lansing, Friday afternon Nov. 22 when my granddaughter Ann called and said the President had been shot, and when, a few minutes later it came over the radio that he was dead, my reaction was one of stunned disbelief. "No. It can't be true. There must be some mistake".

But it was true. The unbelievable had happened.

John F. Kennedy, President of the United States, had shown his trust and confidence in the good will of his fellow Americans by riding in an open car in full view and close proximity to a half million people, and his trust and confidence was rewarded by—a bullet through his head.

It is hard to imagine a mind so filled with hate that it could plan and do such a terrible thing.

But no matter how much we may loathe and despise the warped and twisted soul that could conceive such a monstrous crime, we must realize that Oswald was a product of our generation, and that we are all in greater or less degree responsible for him and others like him.

We seem to be riding a wave of increasing crime ratio and moral let down, intolerance and class hatred. Instead of "give more for less", our motto is "get more for less", featherbedding and self indulgence. The day is past when, "His word is as good as his bond." Promises are lightly made, to be broken at will.

"Thou shalt not kill" is not the only Commandment. "Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it Holy", and instead of a day of rest and contemplation, we soothe our conscience with a 30 minute sermon and make the rest of the day an orgy of unrestricted pleasure-seeking and professional sports.

And if this terrible tragedy does not cause us to pause and think, and take stock of ourselves and where we are headed, and then resolve to be a little more tolerant, a little less hateful, a little more understanding, considerate, and helpful, a little more kind and charitable toward our neighbors, regardless of party, nationality, race, color, religion or creed, then, God help us.

No matter how much some of us may have differed with some of his views, no one could help sensing that here was a sincere young man who wanted to be a good President, and was trying hard to do what he thought was best for his country.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — American farmers have the good news from Secretary of Agriculture Orville S. Freeman himself that there should be an increasing world market for all their surplus food production through 1980, at least.

Speaking in Rome, before the biennial conference of the 107-nation Food and Agriculture Organization, FAO, Freeman gave the first meaningful estimates on how the world's food deficits can be met by expanding world trade and aid.

This is, in effect, the American answer to problems raised at the World Food Conference on "Freedom From Hunger," held in Washington last June.

At that time it was estimated that world population would be doubled from the three billion today to six billion by 2000 A. D.

To meet a minimum requirement of 2,400 calories a day, including 70 grams of protein, it was estimated that food production would have to be quadrupled in Asia, tripled in the Near East and more than doubled in Africa and Latin America.

A $12.5 billion, five-year program of surplus food distribution by the "have" nations for the "have-nots" was called for by FAO Secretary General R. B. Sen of India as part of a 40-point program to prevent malnutrition for a billion people.

As host nation for the 102 countries at the World Food Congress, the United States made no immediate response but said that the recommendations would be considered.

Subsequently, U. S. Department of Agriculture economists Willard Cochrane, Arthur B. Mackie and Grover Chappell went to work on the problem. Last August their findings were presented to the American Farm Economic Assn. meeting in Minneapolis. They have now been given to the FAO in Rome for its consideration.

In substance, the finding is that the world's food deficits cannot be met by merely increasing production in the developing countries. Their own supplies must be supplemented by imports from the surplus-producing countries of the world.

The key to these twin problems, Freeman told the FAO, is "trade and aid," which must be considered together. He sees the need for food aid and trade between now and 1980 as substantially greater than is generally realized.

Using ratios which have been observed since 1938 and which are expected to continue it has been found that in a developing country where the population is growing 2.2 per cent a year, incomes have risen about 5.3 per cent a year.

Domestic food production in such countries has increased an average of about 3.3 per cent a year. This is faster than the population growth, but not as fast as the income growth.

Under the impact of higher incomes, therefore, the demand for food has increased about 4.3 per cent year. This is nearly one-fourth more than food production increased.

"If the need for food resulting from this demand is not met," Freeman said, "billions of dollars of increased purchasing power will flow against inadequate food supplies and bring about price inflation."

The solution, therefore, is to supply these developing nations with surplus food from the more developed nations.

★ ★ ★

By calculations too intricate to go into here, it is estimated that the value of the over-all food deficit between now and 1980 is estimated at $25.6 billion.

The developed countries, however, can easily increase their food production by $25.3 billion between now and 1980. So a balance can be achieved if there is free world trade and aid.

"It's as simple as that," Freeman told the FAO. He added: "These principles are much easier to state than to implement."

One of the main troubles pointed to is that highly industrialized nations—like the European Common Market members—tend to encourage uneconomic production of food. They raise instead of lower the artificial barriers to food trade.

This can be overcome only if the highly developed nations accept their share of the responsibility and the cost of providing food aid for the less developed countries.

This is the approach to the problem the United States will present at the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, next spring.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

The Doctor Says:

Diet Control Combats Diabetes

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Diabetes, like the motor car, is here to stay. This is because it is definitely an inherited disease. The number of persons who are capable of passing it on to their offspring is increasing.

The underlying cause is a deficiency in the ability of the pancreas to manufacture a sufficient amount of insulin. This is the hormone that enables the tissues, especially muscles, to transform the glucose in the blood into energy.

When insulin is lacking, the level of glucose in the blood rises. When it exceeds a certain level it is eliminated in the urine. Thus the carbohydrates and sugars in the diet are wasted and the muscles, deprived of nourishment, become weak.

High blood-sugar levels favor an increase in the acidity of the blood (acidosis). This acts as a poison and may result in a diabetic coma. Obese persons run a greater risk of developing diabetes than slender persons. Often all that is necessary to control a mild diabetes in an obese person is to bring his weight down.

In any diabetic a strict dietary control is important because an increase in calories from any source will cause an increase in the blood sugar.

If diet alone will not control the disease, a diabetic must take either insulin or one of the drugs such as tolbutamide that lowers the blood sugar level. Tolbutamide can be taken by mouth but it is not effective in all diabetics.

The number of calories in the diet is adjusted to the individual needs of a diabetic and the amount of either type of drug is carefully balanced. The reason the diabetic should not increase his desserts and then make a corresponding increase in his medicine is that this will cause him to gain weight again and make his diabetes harder to control.

Diabetics frequently are warned not to sit with their legs crossed because this impedes the circulation in one leg and anything that impedes the circulation also invites gangrene. Other complications include degenerative changes in the retina, kidneys, and arteries of the heart and brain.

Escanaba Zoning Goals Reviewed By City Council

Encouragement of orderly growth and the protection and maintenance of property values in Escanaba are goals of the Planning Commission, the City Council was told by Dale Vinette, Commission chairman, last night.

The review by Vinette was part of the discussion attending the Council's deliberation of a Planning Commission recommendation to rezone a seven-lot area at S. 23rd St. and 1st Ave. from commercial to residential use.

The question has come before the Commission a number of times and to the Council once previously upon petition of the affected residents.

Vinette directed attention of the Council to the fact that the Commission had recommended the change from commercial to residential and reaffirmed its decision again recently.

Defines Zoning

Of the seven lots involved, all but one is occupied by a dwelling and the owners want the use zoned as residential. The change is opposed by the owner of the unoccupied lot, Mrs. Emil Dittrich of Hyde, and by others who do not reside within the seven-lot area.

Some of the property owners are represented by legal counsel and presentations on behalf of their clients were made to the Council by the attornies.

Vinette, member of the Planning Commission for 14 years and presently its chairman, was asked to comment by the Council. He reviewed the creation of a master plan and described the objectives in zoning.

Zoning is basically the regulation of the use of land to provide for its orderly development, and to maintain land values for the individual property owners and in the best interests of all the people of the community, he said.

Residential Use

When the city's master plan was adopted the residential area was projected to the west end of the city because the growth in the area was predominantly in homes, said Vinette. The character of the area now confirms this, with schools and churches constructed or planned within the residential area.

Vinette cited the property valuations within the one-block in which the seven lots in question are located: The assessed value of the dwellings in the block totals $25,700; the commercial value totals $12,850.

The Planning Commission chairman recalled the opposition to the planning for the development of the east end of Ludington St. as a civic area. Now the blighted district has been restored and no one would now be critical of the result.

Prevent Losses

There is no "secret" that it is the plan to attempt to maintain the commercial district in Escanaba's downtown area, Vinette said. Gradual deterioration of the business district will bring loss in values and harm the city's economy and the welfare of all of its people, the Planning Commission believes.

The regulation of commercial development westward is esential if the city's central business district is to be maintained in a healthy condition. Ideally the business district should be centered by a strip three or four blocks wide and about nine blocks long on Ludington St.

The City Council gave first reading to the recommendation of the Commission to rezone from commercial to residential the seven-lot area in question at S. 23rd and 1st Ave. and set the date of Jan. 2 for public hearing.

In other business the Council adopted an ordinance vacating that portion of S. 14th St. south of 16th St., so that improvements in traffic safety may be made to the intersection with Lake Shore Drive; and adopted a traffic ordinance amendment to provide uniform overtime parking fines.

DIRECTORS OF UPPER Peninsula county soil conservations districts met with leaders of the Michigan Soil Conservation Districts, Inc., at the Dells Supper Club Wednesday for a semi-annual report on the progress of soil conservation in the Upper Peninsula. GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A Circuit Court jury acquitted James R. Ellis, 21, of Alto, Wednesday of negligent homicide in the traffic deaths of two children. Ellis was charged as driver of a car which struck and killed Patricia O'Neal, 5, and her brother, Kevin, 4, June 4 as they walked near their home in suburban McCords.

Soil Managers Give Attention To Watersheds

Upper Peninsula Soil Conservation District directors meeting at the Dells Supper Club Wednesday devoted much of their day-long semi-annual conference to watershed projects, accenting the growing interest in water for both agricultural and recreational uses in the Peninsula.

The meeting of the 70 directors followed a meeting at the Dells on Tuesday of directors of the Michigan Soil Conservation Districts, Inc. Daniel Barron of Cornell, president of the Delta County District and U.P. director on the MSCD, presided at the sessions Wednesday.

Del Meister, U.P. area soil conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, Marquette, told the group that his inspection tours in the U.P. revealed that farms which employed good crop rotation, strip cropping, fertilization and other approved soil conservation practices came through this year's drought in better condition than farms not so managed.

The drought even had some beneficial side effects. The dry conditions made it possible to construct ditches, ponds, impoundments and other water control structures which would have been more difficult or impossible to construct under wet conditions.

Watershed Projects

The watershed projects which were reviewed included that proposing three impoundments on the Sturgeon River, a tributary of the Menominee River, in Dickinson County; a drainage improvement project on the Little River, a tributary of the Menominee River in Menominee County, and a proposed project for flood control on the Bark River in Delta County.

The projects would be assisted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture under Public Act 566.

The Little River project proposed by the Menominee County Soil Conservation District and the Menominee County drain commissioner would improve drainage by channel straightening and some deepening and other work. It is yet to be approved by landowners affected.

The Sturgeon River project has been approved by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. One of the impoundments would be for recreational use and two for irrigation. The landowners who would use the water would pay fo the pumping unit and take water from central supply points.

The Bark River watershed is only in early planning stage with the Delta Soil Conservation District as sponsor and the Conservation Department showing interest. An explanation phase will be the first step in the project in 1964.

Fertilizer Tests

Sherwood Trotter, supervisor of the Hiawatha National Forest, told the soil conservationists of the new ecreational value of their lands. He said that the recreational facilities of the national forests and other public holdings should be related to the private lands and that there should be a planned effort to realize the recreational income potential from Upper Peninsula lands as well as their agricultural potential.

Don Thurlow, Michigan State University Extension agronomist in the U.P., reported on results of test plots checking the possible correlation of potash use in fartilizers and the specific gravity (solid matter) in potatoes.

There appears support from first year results with varied fertilizers for belief that a 1-4-2 ratio may be adequate to replace the more familiar 1-4-4 ratio. This would effect an economy for potato growers. (Fertilizer ratios denote nitrogen-phosphoous-potash.)

All U.P. counties except Schoolcraft and Keweenaw have soil conservation districts and all were represented except Gogebic. Schoolcraft is planning organization of a district.

Chambers Urged To Take Stands On Civic Policy

President John Anthony of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce led a delegation of 8 Delta County persons to the Upper Peninsula conference of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce at Northern Michigan University, Marquette on Wednesday.

Participating in a discussion on the symposium's main topics: "Are U. P. chambers adequately financed, and are they abdicating community leadership to governmental agencies?" were Anthony, Raymond Fish, Gust Asp and Walter Lewke.

Participating in a discussion on government imposed costs of doing business were Guy Knutson, Leroy Hamilton and Harvey Pierson. Walter Bright was also a member of the Delta delegation.

Concensus was that U. P. chambers are not adequately financed to function fully in the community interest. Brightest spots in the U. P. Chamber picture, the discussion developed, are Marquette and Escanaba, which have the most active, aggressive and best financed chambers.

Highest paid Chamber executives in the U. P. get $7,200 according to a questionnaire reported at the meeting, but Escanaba and Marquette top this figure.

It was suggested that the way to increase U. P. chambers' financial stability was to raise membership dues and increase multiple memberships and sell more single memberships.

The concensus was that chambers should have more active national, state and local civic affairs committees to give local leadership in participation in government.

To improve the economic climate of communities it was recommended that industrial foundations be set up, enabling communities to do a better work of seeking industries and helping develop their existing industries. Escanaba reported a healthy condition in these fields with an industrial foundation dating to the 1930s — one of the earliest in Michigan.

Harry R. Hall, executive vice president of the Michigan State Chamber said that government agencies were taking over community functions because chambers were not functioning and thus creating a vacuum.

All chambers have been weak in legislative influence because of desire to avoid involvement in community controversy, he said. Chambers were urged by Hall to take a stand. "Since we've organized a state chamber we've been nothing but a controversial chamber," said Hall.

Toys 'Predict' Future Things

For years, toys used to be miniatures of things used in the adult world. This Christmas, many are scaled-down versions of the world of tomorrow.

On a stroll through toyland for example, you'll see the "Wing Thing." This bat-like flying device has a 52 inch wingspread and is 36 inches long. Children can fly it like a kite, or under power from its small gasoline engine. It climbs to about 300 feet, and when the engine runs out of fuel, it continues to swoop and soar before returning gently to earth.

The "Wing Thing" is actually the smaller version of something called a flexwing, which will help return our astronauts from outer space in Project Gemini. Significantly, the toy version is available for children before the astronauts have the real thing.

If your imagination has been captured by predictions of automated highway systems, take a look at Autorama. Little cars travel on complex highway systems with turn-offs and cloverleafs—all by remote control.

And there's even a remote control car thrill show with the "Fly-Over Chicane." The little cars race up a ramp, hurtle off into space, change lanes in mid-air, land safely on the other side, and keep on going.

Even that old standby the Erector set has turned toward the future in 1963. Redesigned for the first time in 50 years, the perennial favorite now boasts a motor that can be preprogrammed to perform several different functions in sequence.

The addition of streamlined girders, solid-color panels and plastic domes make it possible for boys to build working models of planetary probes, lunar vehicles and other space exploration devices still on the drawing boards of space engineering firms.

And if science fascinates you, there's a new chemistry set called "Chemistry of the Space Age." It provides for growing plants space-ship style, without soil, using artificial plant nutrients.

It also contains atomic-irradiated bean seeds for would be Jacks - in - the - Beanstalks. While the bean plants may never get quite that tall, they will give you a sample of what may develop into whole new varieties of plants.

With these and many more playthings, it's the Spirit of Christmas Future that's making fantasy come true in toyland this year.

New Pulp Mill Proposed For Upper Michigan

LANSING (AP) — An Upper Peninsula researcher has asked a legislative committee for $30,400 to help finance a study he said could bring a new wood pulp mill into Michigan.

Dr. Hereford Garland, director of forest products research at Michigan College of Mining and Technology, said a multi-million dollar mill could create 3,000 jobs, including those employed in service industries connected with the actual plant and forest workers.

Garland said past research shows the greatest economic return from the Upper Peninsula's surplus wood is realized in the form of pulp.

"The wood pulp industry in the Upper Peninsula has created 1,000 jobs in the last five years. A growing market exists today," he said.

He showed the Committee on Economic Development samples of new products, including rayon and corrugated board, which use pulp.

Ann Landers

Fight No Help

Dear Ann Landers: Last night my husband started to tell me how great his father is. After about five beers his eyes got sort of watery and he said, "If my father ever got too sick to work I'd hock everything in this house to take care of him."

I told my husband if he so much as sold one stick of furniture I would take the children and move out. After all, I worked six years before the children came and every dime went into this house. It's just as much my house as his, and I'm not about to let him hock things to help out his dad.

We got into a big argument and I'd like you to tell me if I am right or wrong. Thank you. —JOSIE

Dear Josie: Why waste time and energy arguing about somthing that hasn't happened and probably never will?

It would make a lot more sense if your husband helped his dad work out a program whereby he saved a part of his weekly check. This beats fighting about problems which don't exist.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: Last week my obituary appeared in the newspaper. Of course I did not die, but the person who did die had the same name as mine, and the same middle initial. He was two years older than I am.

I have lived in this city for less than two years. Most of my friends and colleagues know very little about my family.

My wife received several cards of condolence and a few hand-written notes. Eight or ten people phoned her to say they were sorry. Naturally she told those who called I was alive and kicking. But what should she do about the cards and notes? She feels it would be stupid to do anything about them. I say if these people were good enough to express sympathy she should respond by letting them know I am all right. Please advise us — PULSE NORMAL

Dear Norm: The folks who wrote should be notified by telephone—and I hope your wife will do it promptly—before someone who wrote a condolence note bumps into you on the street and has a coronary.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 16 years old, but today I feel like 90. It's too late for advice, but maybe my experience will prevent some other girl from making the same mistake.

I live in a city where there is a state university. Any high school sophomore who can get a date from a guy at the university is considered pretty special. I was thrilled when a 21-year-old junior asked me out. He was handsome and on the football team besides. My success really went to my head.

I figured since this guy was older than hand-holding in the movies and a goodnight kiss at the door would be kid stuff to him so I decided I'd do anything and everything to keep him interested. Believe me this was the biggest mistake of my life.

After he got what he wanted he dropped me like a hot coal. Now I feel like a cheap tramp. Just tell the girls for me, Ann, that once you become a conquest instead of a challenge the boy loses interest.—DUMB ME

Dear You: I'll agree you were pretty dumb but your letter indicates you've smartened up considerably. Thanks for writing and I hope your new-found wisdom will be reflected in your future conduct.

Tuscola County Skeleton May Be Murder Clue

LANSING (AP) — A skeleton found in Tuscola County underbrush was in the State Police Crime Laboratory today as authorities tried to learn whether they had uncovered a murder.

Sheriff Hugh Marr and Vassar Policeman Eddie Kulkuski said the skeleton probably is that of a man who died of a skull fracture.

Marr theorized it might be the remains of 74-year-old Walter Biskelonis, who was reported missing from Kingston, where he lived alone, June 18, 1959.

Two hunters discovered the skeleton Monday, nearly hidden by leaves and undergrowth two miles south of old M-38 on Hess Road.

Soviets Release Dutch Sailors Jailed As Spies

MOSCOW (AP) —The Soviet Union has released two Dutch sailors imprisoned 2½ years on charges of spying for NATO. They were put aboard a Dutch airliner for the trip home.

The sailors, Lou de Jager, 27, and Evert Reydon, 31, had been serving 13-year terms. They appeared in good health and said they were well treated during confinement in the same cell at a prison in Vladimir.

The two were arrested Aug. 20, 1961, while traveling by car near the Polish frontier, Soviet authorities said. They were convicted of collecting espionage information for NATO on the orders of the Dutch intelligence service.

New Car Sales Pass 1962 Mark

DETROIT (AP) — New car sales since Jan. 1 have exceeded the 6,752,000 retailed by dealers in all of 1962, Ward's Automotive Reports said Wednesday.

Ward's did not give an exact figure for 1963 sales declaring only that they had surpassed the 1962 total.

The trade paper said the milestone, achieved in the opening days of December, establishes calendar 1963 as the second highest sales year in automotive history. Only 1955, with 7,408,000 new car sales, stands higher.

New truck sales exceeded 1962 totals in mid - November. The Jan. 1 - Nov. 20 truck sales totaled 1,098,900, as against 1,067,500 for all of 1962.

Ward's said that by Dec. 10 truck sales will surpass 1950 record 1,142,000 making this the best truck year in history.

MOSCOW (AP) —The Soviet Union has released two Dutch sailors imprisoned 2½ years on charges of spying for NATO. They were put aboard a Dutch airliner for the trip home.

The sailors, Lou de Jager, 27, and Evert Reydon, 31, had been serving 13-year terms. They appeared in good health and said they were well treated during confinement in the same cell at a prison in Vladimir.

New Car Sales Pass 1962 Mark

DETROIT (AP) — New car sales since Jan. 1 have exceeded the 6,752,000 retailed by dealers in all of 1962, Ward's Automotive Reports said Wednesday.

Ward's did not give an exact figure for 1963 sales declaring only that they had surpassed the 1962 total.

The trade paper said the milestone, achieved in the opening days of December, establishes calendar 1963 as the second highest sales year in automotive history. Only 1955, with 7,408,000 new car sales, stands higher.

New truck sales exceeded 1962 totals in mid - November. The Jan. 1 - Nov. 20 truck sales totaled 1,098,900, as against 1,067,500 for all of 1962.

Ward's said that by Dec. 10 truck sales will surpass 1950 record 1,142,000 making this the best truck year in history.

Indian Bible 300 Years Old

By FRANCIS STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Bible Society is observing the 300th anniversary of what it says was the first whole Bible printed in the Western Hemisphere—and one that no one can read now.

It was written in the language of the Massachusetts Indians.

The Bible society says the work also was the first Bible printed in an American Indian language and the first for which it was necessary to create a written form of a spoken language.

An Algonquin language was used for the translation, the society said, and the Bible was in use on Martha's Vineyard as late as the 1700s.

For many years there as been no one who understands the language, even among the descendants of the Vineyard Indians.

In connection with a display of the work at the society's headquarters in New York the society said the volume is known as the John Eliot Bible, being named for its translator.

Eliot, driven from England in 1631 because of his outspoken Puritan sentiments, came to be known as the "Apostle to the Indians."

He sought to improve their living conditions, preached to them in their own language and helped establish schools for their children.

One of his major aims soon came to be a translation of the Bible into their own tongue, which had no written form.

To create a written form, and to translate another language into it, proved a formidable task. Eliot, aided by an English speaking Indian, Job Nesutan, spent 40 years at it.

By 1655, with the aid of Nesutan, Eliot completed a translation of Genesis and Matthew and printed copies. Only one survives. It is in a London library.

The New Testament was completed in the summer of 1611. The entire Bible was finished in 1663 and an estimated 1,040 copies were bound.

Christian Unity Catholic Goal

By EUGENE LEVIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI and his Ecumenical Council met today to order a vast reform of Roman Catholic worship.

The Pope and the 2,200 prelates — cardinals, patriarchs, archbishops, bishops and abbots —had before them for final action a council decree on liturgy, or public worship.

Promulgation of the decree was the main order of business at the last meeting of the second session of the council. A nine-month recess follows.

English For Latin

The document was Roman Catholicism's first councilar decree since a Vatican council proclaimed the dogma of papal infallibility in 1870.

A council press office background paper estimated it would take 7-10 years to implement the liturgical reforms.

The 12,000-word decree represents the most far - reaching change in Roman rite liturgy since the 3rd Century when Latin replaced Greek in the Western church.

Among other things, the decree grants permission for the use of modern languages instead of Latin in the Mass and Sacraments.

American bishops announced they would make full use of the permission to substitute English for Latin. They said they planned to meet next spring to approve English translations.

Substitution of modern languages for Latin and other major points of the decree were made known in summary form during the past months of council debate.

With the distribution of the full text today, other details became known.

Preachinig Emphasized

Its opening paragraph said the council "desires to impart an ever increasing vigor to the Christian life of the faithful: to adapt more suitably to the needs of our own times those institutions which are subject to change; to foster whatever can promote union among all who believe in Christ: to strengthen whatever can help to call the whole of mankind into the household of the Church."

"The council therefore sees particularly cogent reasons for undertaking the reform and promotion of the liturgy," the document said.

The decree deals only with Roman Catholic worship, but it emphasizes the importance of Scripture in liturgy and advocates more preaching.

Scripture and preaching are strongly emphasized by Protestants. Some non-Catholics feel Catholicism does not pay sufficient attention to them.

The decree sets general principles and guidelines. Special liturgical commissions, set up by national and regional bishops' conferences, will work out the actual changes, including prayers and other texts in modern languages. Commission proposals will go to the Vatican for final approval.

American bishops announced they would make full use of the permission to substitute English for Latin. They said they planned to meet next spring to approve English translations.

Substitution of modern languages for Latin and other major points of the decree were made known in summary form during the past months of council debate.

With the distribution of the full text today, other details became known.

Preachinig Emphasized

Its opening paragraph said the council "desires to impart an ever increasing vigor to the Christian life of the faithful: to adapt more suitably to the needs of our own times those institutions which are subject to change; to foster whatever can promote union among all who believe in Christ: to strengthen whatever can help to call the whole of mankind into the household of the Church."

"The council therefore sees particularly cogent reasons for undertaking the reform and promotion of the liturgy," the document said.

The decree deals only with Roman Catholic worship, but it emphasizes the importance of Scripture in liturgy and advocates more preaching.

Scripture and preaching are strongly emphasized by Protestants. Some non-Catholics feel Catholicism does not pay sufficient attention to them.

The decree sets general principles and guidelines. Special liturgical commissions, set up by national and regional bishops' conferences, will work out the actual changes, including prayers and other texts in modern languages. Commission proposals will go to the Vatican for final approval.

Hearing Center Gets Deaf Dog

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Pudgie is a black Labrador Retriever who never has barked — because she doesn't know what a bark sounds like.

Pudgie, completely deaf, is the first patient to be admitted to the new multi-million-dollar Kresege Hearing Research Institute at the University of Michigan.

She is probably the first dog ever to have available a full staff of consultants — otologists, physiologists, anatomists, physicists and technicians — her own doctor and the facilities of one of the nation's major hearing research centers.

Her condition is unusual for a dog, but relatively common in humans. U - M scientists hope to come a few steps closer to solving similar, hearing problems in people through detailed tests with Pudgie.

"Hopefully, this information may have a direct bearing on our future ability to help human beings," said Dr. Merle Lawrence, institute director.

Pudgie was a gift to Sandi Forster, 16, of Ann Arbor, who offered the dog to the institute when she first realized her pet was deaf.

Santa and the Haunted House

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: The Storyteller began a story for Jeremy, Sissy and Miss Jo. He told about a wicked Bugaboo who was sent by the Queen Fairy to live in Santa Land.

CHAPTER THREE
NOG IN SANTA LAND

"What did Nog do?" cried Sissy, rising to her knees. "What did he do?" echoed Miss Jo, pulling on the Storyteller's boot

"Let him tell," said Jeremy, yanking his sisters down.

The Storyteller sighed. "What didn't he do!" he said, shaking his head.

"Tell us! Tell us!"

"Well, for one thing, Nog would sneak into the workshops after the other elves had finished their work. He would unwrap all the toys that had been made that day. Then, while everyone else was sleeping, Nog would have himself the biggest time, pulling off dolls' arms, tearing loose wires on electric trains, hiding pieces of jigsaw puzzles and things like that."

This was the end for Santa.

"Why did he do it?" gasped Miss Jo.

"He was just plain mean," said the Storyteller. "He fixed it so that when little children came down Christmas morning and picked up their toys—the toys were broken before they even started to play with them."

"I got a wind-up truck once" said Jeremy suddenly. "The spring was broken and it never ran once."

"Likely Nog did it," said the Storyteller, nodding.

"But you said Nog wasn't in Santa Land any more," protested Sissy.

"He's not," said the Storyteller. "That's what I'm about to tell you." He pulled a pipe from his pocket, put it in his mouth without lighting it and went on with his story.

After that first Christmas, Santa got a whole train load of letters complaining about all the broken toys he'd left for children all over the world.

Santa was pretty upset. He called Nog in to see him and he said, "Are you responsible for all this trouble?"

"Maybe yes, maybe no," said Nog without a bit of shame.

"I don't understand," said Santa "Why do you hate children?"

"I hate everybody," said Nog and his purple face got even more purple just thinking about how much he hated everybody.

"But why?" asked Santa.

"Because everybody hates me," said Nog.

"I don't hate you," said Santa.

"Oh," said Nog. "It's your business to love people. But I like to hate and I like for everyone to hate me."

Santa just couldn't believe Nog really meant this so he said, "I'm giving you another chance to work in Santa Land."

"Pshaw!" said Nog. "If I wanted to I could RUN Santa Land. I could get rid of you and then I'd run this place my own way. Wouldn't that be something!"

This sounded so silly that Santa paid no attention. He said, "I'm putting you to work in the stables. I'm sure you will like the reindeer because animals can't hate."

Well, Nog went down to the stables and it appeared he was doing all right, at least as far as Santa could see. But that Christmas eve when the deer were hitched to the sleight they couldn't fly.

Nog had filled their stomachs full of ball bearings from the skate shop and the poor reindeer could hardly waddle out of the stable much less take off into the sky.

Santa had to call on every sprite, ghost, goblin and elf in Fairyland to help deliver toys that night. When the job was finally done and he got back to Santa Land, all the shops had burned down. Nog had dropped a lighted candle on a Christmas tree and set the whole place ablaze

This was the end for Santa. He sent for the Fairy Queen and he said, "You were right, I can't keep Nog in Santa Land."

"Oh, dear," sighed the Queen. "What will we do with him now?"

"Yeah," said Nog, smirking. "What will you do with me now?"

Michigan Tech Funds Misused

LANSING (AP) — An audit shows Michigan Tech apparently misused some $27,000 in operating funds to renovate a building for use as a president's home, Aud. Gen. Billie Farnum said today.

In addition, Farnum said, the audit disclosed a total of $12,364 in cash shortages at three other schools—Central Michigan University, Western Michigan University and Ferris State College.

The figures were contained in Farnum's report to legislators on the annual audit by his office of seven state universities and colleges.

All cases of shortage or misuse of funds have been referred to the atttorney general's office for continuing investigation. In some, he indicated, criminal charges of embezzlement may result.

Accompanying the audit was a list of recommendations by Farnum for tightening up controls over spending of funds by the schools.

Public Asked To Save Eagle

By BOB VOGES
AP Outdoor Writer

LANSING (AP) — Michigan has the honor of being one of the states favored by the bird that is our national emblem — the bald eagle.

Conservationists and members of the Audubon Society are concerned, however, because the number of the majestic birds is declining in the continental United States.

Alaska still has bald eagles in good numbers. The last survey showed only 515 known active bald eagle nests in the continental United States. Michigan, with 56 nests, rated second only to Florida with a total of 257.

Fish Main Diet

The reason for the decline is still being debated. It is known that callous and careless hunters killed a few.

An adult bald eagle recently was shot near Monroe. The legs and talons had been cut off. Only two bald eagles were known to remain in the southern Lower Peninsula — both in Monroe County.

The birds, which love the freedom and space of wilderness country, are concentrated in the Upper Peninsula. They forage over the Great Lakes and fish form a staple of their diet.

It also is suspected pesticides — mainly DDT — are a factor in the decline in the bald eagle population.

Although they often catch live prey, eagles also will feed on fish or birds that have been kiled by pesticide poisoning or pollution. It is thought this poisoning might cause unfertile eggs.

Experiments with other birds have shown DT does reduce egg fertility.

Eagles will catch small game such as rabbits, squirrels and pheasants. They also are bold hi-jackers and often will chase and harry a fishhawk that has just made a catch. When the hawk drops the fish, the eagle will catch it before it hits the ground or water.

Posters Distributed

The bald eagle can be spotted by his white head and tail feathers.

An adult will weigh up to 10 pounds and have a seven-foot wing spread.

Don Douglass, of the Conservation Department Game Division, dismisses stories of eagles carying off adult sheep or even small children as pure fantasies.

Tests showed that eagles can lift only a weight of about seven or eight pound. An eagle conceivably could pick up an infant child but couldn't carry it more than a few feet, Douglass said.

Michigan conservationists are distributing about 5,000 posters asking the public to help save the bald eagle. They will appear at nest sites, parks, schools and sporting goods stores.

The public is asked not to disturb nesting sites or even get too close to try to photograph the birds. Above all hunters are asked, don't shoot at our national emblem.

New Space Link To Be Stable

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States intends to take another big step next spring toward achieving a worldwide space communications system.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced plans for putting a communication satellite in stationary orbit 22,300 miles above intersection of the International Dateline and the equator in mid-Pacific.

From there, the Syncom III satellite would be able to receive, store and transmit communications signals between wide stretches of North America and Asia.

The space agency said the satellite will be launched sometime from April through June.

Syncom I was launched last Feb. 14, but radio contact with it was lost. Syncom II was placed in circular orbit 22,300 miles above the earth last July 26.

It rotates at the same speed as the earth, but it is not in an equatorial orbit. It moves north and south of the equator in a figure-eight pattern.

Syncom III will be a true stationary satellite because it will be in a circular orbit 22,300 miles above the earth, synchronized in speed with the earth's rotation rate, and in an equatorial plane.

The Delta rocket used for the first two Syncom satellites lacked the energy to put them in stationary orbits.

A newly developed and more powerful Delta vehicle will be used for Syncom III

Luce's Forest Inventory Set

NEWBERRY — Robert Sayles, chairman of the Luce County Planning Commission, announces publication of a new forest inventory for Luce County.

Distribution of some 300 copies of the Luce County inventory will be made through the Industrial Development Corp. with the assistance of the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion.

The publication was prepared by a sub-committee of the Luce County Planning Commission and was an effort of both private and public foresters who manage the bulk of the timberlands of Luce County.

Included in the new document are tables which show the available timber of the county by species. Present timber demand and surplus wood are also included. One table shows that there is a surplus of cordwood that amounts to approximately 95,000 cords per year that could be utilized in some new industry using wood fiber.

Other documents being prepared by sub-committees of the commission include a land-use inventory of the county and another concerning the human resources of the area. It is expected that will be completed by the spring of next year.

The "Sierra Leone" dollar was the first coin struck with the word "dollar" on the coin itself.

Audit Reveals Tab Needed On College Funds

as the most suitable available replacement for the college president's home.

"When work was begun to prepare this house for occupancy, it was believed mere maintenance would be sufficient. As the project developed, the need for additional work was gradually realized.

"There is always a question whether any given job is really remodeling or merely maintenance. Obviously, taking out or installing a partition is remodeling but rebuilding an old and worn out bathroom is properly classified as maintenance. Work orders are not required for maintenance projects. Hence only a part of the project is open to criticism that capital outlay funds should have been voted by the legislature."

Homestead Tax Act Is Amended

A recent change by the Michigan State Legislature regarding homestead tax exemptions for veterans and widows of veterans, has resulted in a change of policy reporting procedures at the local level, it was announced today.

Under the new legislation a three part form, AG-300, must be completed by the veteran and submitted to the city assessor, or township supervisor, during the period Dec. 31 and the last meeting of the Township or City Board of Review in March of 1964.

The required form may be obtained from the township supervisor where the veteran or widow maintains their homestead, or in the case of the Cities of Escanaba and Gladstone from the Office of Veteran Affairs, 1103 Ludington St., Escanaba.

Submitted along with the AG 300 form must be proofs of discharge, death certificate in the case of widows, land contract (deed or mortgage), compensation or pension check or letter of award from the Veterans' Administration.

Under the law, any person whose income is in excess of $7,500 a year and who is not receiving compensation or pension for a service connected condition, or death, is not eligible for the tax exemption.

It also provides that a person owning property (both real and personal) in excess of $10,000 assessment, based on state equalized value, is not eligible. Prior to the legislatures amending Section 211.8 of the compiled laws of 1948 the figure was $7,500. However the change by the legislature increased the valuation figure.

Inasmuch as Dec. 31 is the tax day the required form may not be notarized or submitted to the assessor or supervisor prior to this date.

Two West Point Officers Killed In Jet Plunge

KEENE, N. H. (AP) — Two U. S. Military Academy officers died Wednesday when a T33 jet trainer crashed and exploded about 10 miles southwest of here.

The aircraft came down in an isolated wooded area.

Killed in the crash were Capt. Francis J. Adams, 33, of North Arlington, N. J., an instructor in social sciences at West Point, and Capt. Norb R. Glidden, 30, of Alba, Mich., a tactical officer with the West Point Corps of Cadets.

Adams leaves his widow, Carol, and two children, and Glidden, his widow, Joyce Ann, and one child. Both were graduated from the military academy in 1955.

Rules Ignored To Rush Bills On Constitution

profit corporations in the first nine months of 1964, however, would come to less than $500,000.

The largest single firm facing payment of a fee in 1964 reportedly is Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Its franchise fee was reported to about $250,000.

Michigan Bell was last incorporated in 1934 and its 30-year period will expire Jan. 26.

Romney said the bill has been introduced in the special session to avoid a situation under which some companies would have to pay the fee after Jan. 1, 1964 and others would not if the bill was passed later next year.

He said its introduction had been "requested by legislators" and had been approved by the leaders of both Republican and Democratic parties.

Could Reduce Rates

He said it is designed to promote economic growth by furnishing incentive to companies to incorporate in Michigan.

The present constitution requires that companies must file new papers of incorporation every 30 years, but by statute they are allowed one or more extensions of up to 30 years duration.

In revising the constitution, the constitutional convention eliminated the section requiring a 30-year limit on corporate life, but the document does not prevent it from being continued under enacted law.

Romney said he expected any saving by Michigan Bell would be passed along to its subscribers in reduced rates.

Christine Faces Perjury Trial

LONDON (AP) — Christine Keeler, 21, the leading woman in the Profumo scandal, went on trial with three other persons today, accused of trying to frame one of her Negro ex-lovers.

It was Miss Keeler's fourth appearance before a judge in London's Old Bailey, the central criminal court, but her first as a defendant. She could get 28 years in prison if convicted.

On trial with Miss Keeler are her apartment mate, Paula Hamilton-Marshall, 23; their housekeeper, Mrs. Olive Brooker, 56, and Rudolph Fenton, 39, a West Indian.

The three women are charged with committing perjury during the trial of Jamaican jazz singer Aloysius (Lucky) Gordon and with conspiring to subvert the course of justice. Fenton is charged only with conspiracy.

All four have pleaded innocent.

Her last appearance at Old Bailey was as a star witness against Dr. Stephen Ward, society osteopath and artist who introduced her to War Minister John Profumo. Ward was convicted of living off proceeds of her prostitution, but committed suicide before he was sentenced.

Roosevelt's Son Praises Johnson

NEW YORK (AP)—"I think it can be fairly said that never has a man, including my father, come to the presidency of the United States better trained and more experienced than Lyndon B. Johnson."

The speaker? Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., son of the only man to be elected president four times.

Cape Canaveral Wants To Keep Its Old Name

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The city of Cape Canaveral and the Greater Cocoa Chamber of Commerce don't like the idea of renaming this cape on the Florida east coast, and President Johnson is going to hear about it.

The town council and the chamber adopted similar resolutions Wednesday opposing the change. Copies went to the President, Florida's congressional delegation, Gov. Farris Bryant and Florida Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin.

It's all right to designate the missile center in honor of the late President, the council said, but it doesn't want the Cape renamed.

The town council questioned legality of either the President or governor "renaming a mass of land which has borne a name of historical significance for more than 400 years." Spanish navigators first named the Cape "Canaveral"—Spanish for reed field or cane field.

Britian Has 3 Elections Today

LONDON (AP)—Britain held three special elections today to fill seats in the House of Commons.

Main attention was focused on London's Marylebone district, a Conservative stronghold. There the former Lord Hailsham, who renounced his title to return to active politics as Quintin Hogg, was runnning as the Tory candidate against Labor's Peter Plouviez, a 33-year-old teacher.

The other elections were in Manchester's Openshaw district, where Charles Morris was defending a safe Labor seat against Conservative and Communist opponents, and Woodbridge, on the Suffolk coast.

Luce's Forest Inventory Set

NEWBERRY — Robert Sayles, chairman of the Luce County Planning Commission, announces publication of a new forest inventory for Luce County.

Distribution of some 300 copies of the Luce County inventory will be made through the Industrial Development Corp. with the assistance of the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion.

The publication was prepared by a sub-committee of the Luce County Planning Commission and was an effort of both private and public foresters who manage the bulk of the timberlands of Luce County.

Included in the new document are tables which show the available timber of the county by species. Present timber demand and surplus wood are also included. One table shows that there is a surplus of cordwood that amounts to approximately 95,000 cords per year that could be utilized in some new industry using wood fiber.

Other documents being prepared by sub-committees of the commission include a land-use inventory of the county and another concerning the human resources of the area. It is expected that will be completed by the spring of next year.

The "Sierra Leone" dollar was the first coin struck with the word "dollar" on the coin itself.

as the most suitable available replacement for the college president's home.

"When work was begun to prepare this house for occupancy, it was believed mere maintenance would be sufficient. As the project developed, the need for additional work was gradually realized.

"There is always a question whether any given job is really remodeling or merely maintenance. Obviously, taking out or installing a partition is remodeling but rebuilding an old and worn out bathroom is properly classified as maintenance. Work orders are not required for maintenance projects. Hence only a part of the project is open to criticism that capital outlay funds should have been voted by the legislature."

Homestead Tax Act Is Amended

A recent change by the Michigan State Legislature regarding homestead tax exemptions for veterans and widows of veterans, has resulted in a change of policy reporting procedures at the local level, it was announced today.

Under the new legislation a three part form, AG-300, must be completed by the veteran and submitted to the city assessor, or township supervisor, during the period Dec. 31 and the last meeting of the Township or City Board of Review in March of 1964.

The required form may be obtained from the township supervisor where the veteran or widow maintains their homestead, or in the case of the Cities of Escanaba and Gladstone from the Office of Veteran Affairs, 1103 Ludington St., Escanaba.

Submitted along with the AG 300 form must be proofs of discharge, death certificate in the case of widows, land contract (deed or mortgage), compensation or pension check or letter of award from the Veterans' Administration.

Under the law, any person whose income is in excess of $7,500 a year and who is not receiving compensation or pension for a service connected condition, or death, is not eligible for the tax exemption.

It also provides that a person owning property (both real and personal) in excess of $10,000 assessment, based on state equalized value, is not eligible. Prior to the legislatures amending Section 211.8 of the compiled laws of 1948 the figure was $7,500. However the change by the legislature increased the valuation figure.

Inasmuch as Dec. 31 is the tax day the required form may not be notarized or submitted to the assessor or supervisor prior to this date.

Rules Ignored To Rush Bills On Constitution

profit corporations in the first nine months of 1964, however, would come to less than $500,000.

The largest single firm facing payment of a fee in 1964 reportedly is Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Its franchise fee was reported to about $250,000.

Michigan Bell was last incorporated in 1934 and its 30-year period will expire Jan. 26.

Romney said the bill has been introduced in the special session to avoid a situation under which some companies would have to pay the fee after Jan. 1, 1964 and others would not if the bill was passed later next year.

He said its introduction had been "requested by legislators" and had been approved by the leaders of both Republican and Democratic parties.

Could Reduce Rates

He said it is designed to promote economic growth by furnishing incentive to companies to incorporate in Michigan.

The present constitution requires that companies must file new papers of incorporation every 30 years, but by statute they are allowed one or more extensions of up to 30 years duration.

In revising the constitution, the constitutional convention eliminated the section requiring a 30-year limit on corporate life, but the document does not prevent it from being continued under enacted law.

Romney said he expected any saving by Michigan Bell would be passed along to its subscribers in reduced rates.

Christine Faces Perjury Trial

LONDON (AP) — Christine Keeler, 21, the leading woman in the Profumo scandal, went on trial with three other persons today, accused of trying to frame one of her Negro ex-lovers.

It was Miss Keeler's fourth appearance before a judge in London's Old Bailey, the central criminal court, but her first as a defendant. She could get 28 years in prison if convicted.

On trial with Miss Keeler are her apartment mate, Paula Hamilton-Marshall, 23; their housekeeper, Mrs. Olive Brooker, 56, and Rudolph Fenton, 39, a West Indian.

The three women are charged with committing perjury during the trial of Jamaican jazz singer Aloysius (Lucky) Gordon and with conspiring to subvert the course of justice. Fenton is charged only with conspiracy.

All four have pleaded innocent.

Her last appearance at Old Bailey was as a star witness against Dr. Stephen Ward, society osteopath and artist who introduced her to War Minister John Profumo. Ward was convicted of living off proceeds of her prostitution, but committed suicide before he was sentenced.

Smoking Linked Up With Disease In Broad Study

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The American Cancer Society, in what it says is the broadest study yet made of the subject, reported today that death rates are far higher among cigarette-smokers than among non-smokers and that the rates increase with the amount of smoking.

The report came on the heels of a proposal by the American Medical Association's Board of Trustees for a research program on tobacco and health "beyond statistical evidence."

The American Cancer Society's report was based on 422,094 men who filled out detailed questionnaires and then were traced for an average of 34.3 months.

Many New Factors

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, the society's director of statistical research, outlined the new findings at the 17th annual clinical meeting of the American Medical Association. The figures confirm previous findings and go further, he said.

Pipe-smoking Dr. Hammond reported death rates were far higher among cigarette smokers than non - smokers, they increased with amount of smoking, and they were lower among ex-smokers of a year or longer than among current smokers.

The latest study, aimed at refuting challenges to six earlier ones, includes many new factors. One part of it compares death rates of 36,975 matched pairs (one smoker and one non-smoker).

The "twins" were matched for age, race, height, urban or rural residence, and numerous other characteristics—even degree of baldness and frequency of eating fried foods. The smoker in each pair used a pack of cigarettes a day or more.

Of the 36,975 matched pairs, 1,385 of the smokers died during the study compared with 662 of the non-smokers.

Early Start Is Factor

Lung cancer killed 110 of the smokers, 12 of the non-smokers. Fifteen smokers died of emphysema, another lung disease, compared with 1 non-smoker. More than twice as many smokers as non-smokers (684 and 312; died of two arterial diseases. Other causes felled 576 smokers compared with 329 of the non-smoking "twins."

Among smokers age 40 to 69 who started before age 15 the death rate was 2.9 as high as among those who never smoked regularly.

Lung cancer death rates of current cigarette smokers were 11 times as high as non-smokers —18 times as high among very heavy smokers.

The American Tobacco Institute has said conclusive scientific evidence is lacking to show connection between cancer and smoking.

Dr. Hammond said other diseases found related to cigarette smoking included cancer of the mouth, throat and bladder, and gastric ulcers.

Doomed Dog Case Appealed

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Virginia's Supreme Court will review the case of a dog lover who balked at surrendering his pet for execution.

The court has agreed to consider the appeal of Jim Laing of Pearisburg, who was fined $1,000 and sentenced to four months in jail. His German shepherd, Ricky, was sentenced to death two years ago in Giles County Circuit Court for sheep killing.

Laing appealed, claiming Ricky did not kill the sheep, but was only standing guard over the carcass.

Twice the U.S. Supreme Court declined to review the case, and Laing was found guilty of contempt when he refused to surrender the dog for execution. He contended he had given Ricky to a friend and could not surrender what was no longer his property.

Flu Vaccines Effective For Older Persons

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Flu vacccines are effective and should be given to older persons, those with chronic diseases, and pregnant women, a University of Michigan doctor declared Tuesday.

More than 20 years' experience with influenza virus vaccines shows its average protection ranges from 72 to 83 per cent, said Dr. Fred M. Davenport of the university's School of Public Health.

Speaking at the clinical meeting of the American Medical Association, he challenged a widely published November report that the vaccines are only 20 to 25 per cent effective.

The report by Dr. Alexander D. Langmuir of the Communicable Disease Center, Atlanta, Ga., seemed based on flimsy Data, said Dr. Davenport.

Smoking Linked Up With Disease In Broad Study

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The American Cancer Society, in what it says is the broadest study yet made of the subject, reported today that death rates are far higher among cigarette-smokers than among non-smokers and that the rates increase with the amount of smoking.

The report came on the heels of a proposal by the American Medical Association's Board of Trustees for a research program on tobacco and health "beyond statistical evidence."

The American Cancer Society's report was based on 422,094 men who filled out detailed questionnaires and then were traced for an average of 34.3 months.

Many New Factors

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, the society's director of statistical research, outlined the new findings at the 17th annual clinical meeting of the American Medical Association. The figures confirm previous findings and go further, he said.

Pipe-smoking Dr. Hammond reported death rates were far higher among cigarette smokers than non - smokers, they increased with amount of smoking, and they were lower among ex-smokers of a year or longer than among current smokers.

The latest study, aimed at refuting challenges to six earlier ones, includes many new factors. One part of it compares death rates of 36,975 matched pairs (one smoker and one non-smoker).

The "twins" were matched for age, race, height, urban or rural residence, and numerous other characteristics—even degree of baldness and frequency of eating fried foods. The smoker in each pair used a pack of cigarettes a day or more.

Of the 36,975 matched pairs, 1,385 of the smokers died during the study compared with 662 of the non-smokers.

Early Start Is Factor

Lung cancer killed 110 of the smokers, 12 of the non-smokers. Fifteen smokers died of emphysema, another lung disease, compared with 1 non-smoker. More than twice as many smokers as non-smokers (684 and 312; died of two arterial diseases. Other causes felled 576 smokers compared with 329 of the non-smoking "twins."

Among smokers age 40 to 69 who started before age 15 the death rate was 2.9 as high as among those who never smoked regularly.

Lung cancer death rates of current cigarette smokers were 11 times as high as non-smokers —18 times as high among very heavy smokers.

The American Tobacco Institute has said conclusive scientific evidence is lacking to show connection between cancer and smoking.

Dr. Hammond said other diseases found related to cigarette smoking included cancer of the mouth, throat and bladder, and gastric ulcers.

"SHIRT-SLEEVE DIPLOMACY"

Prior to World War I, Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan dispensed with certain traditional formalities, then commonplace in diplomatic activities, and this became known as the "era of shirt-sleeve diplomacy."

Doomed Dog Case Appealed

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Virginia's Supreme Court will review the case of a dog lover who balked at surrendering his pet for execution.

The court has agreed to consider the appeal of Jim Laing of Pearisburg, who was fined $1,000 and sentenced to four months in jail. His German shepherd, Ricky, was sentenced to death two years ago in Giles County Circuit Court for sheep killing.

Laing appealed, claiming Ricky did not kill the sheep, but was only standing guard over the carcass.

Twice the U.S. Supreme Court declined to review the case, and Laing was found guilty of contempt when he refused to surrender the dog for execution. He contended he had given Ricky to a friend and could not surrender what was no longer his property.

Flu Vaccines Effective For Older Persons

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Flu vaccines are effective and should be given to older persons, those with chronic diseases, and pregnant women, a University of Michigan doctor declared Tuesday.

More than 20 years' experience with influenza virus vaccines shows its average protection ranges from 72 to 83 per cent, said Dr. Fred M. Davenport of the university's School of Public Health.

Speaking at the clinical meeting of the American Medical Association, he challenged a widely published November report that the vaccines are only 20 to 25 per cent effective.

The report by Dr. Alexander D. Langmuir of the Communicable Disease Center, Atlanta, Ga., seemed based on flimsy Data, said Dr. Davenport.

MANISTIQUE

Draft Tube Work Underway At Mill

Crews of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co., are installing additional baffles and rebuilding draft tubes due to low water levels, Frank S. Hoholik, mill manager and president reports.

The seven tubes were designed on the basis of high and low water estimates when built, and the water is now lower than it has ever been in history of the mill. The problem is one which affects hydrogenerating facilities on all the Great Lakes, particularly Lake Michigan, Hoholik said.

The tubes were almost completely ineffective due to the low levels, as air was taken in them. They are outlets for flume water after it drops into tubes and turns a turbine. Air mixing with the water broke a vacuum-like effect.

The work has been underway the past three months. Also underway at the Marshall Field Enterprise mill is construction of a new paper storage building.

Soil samples have been taken for new construction planned with the $2.5 million modernization and expansion program announced last month and scheduled for completion in 1965.

Glass Work Is Rotary Topic

A program on glass-making was presented for Rotary Monday by Dr. Roy W. Wampler, of Curtis, retired director of research for the Libby-Owens-Ford Co., and a former Kansas State University chemistry professor.

He worked in sheet glass for autos, buildings and other flat uses and his program included demonstrations of glass so durable a man could jump on a 1-inch square section, suspended between wood blocks, without breaking it.

Glass has been known to man a long time. Glass beads have been found dating back to 12 centuries before Christ, and was known in the Holy Land. Present-day uses are extensive and widespread. For the past 30 years research departments have been operated using it.

New developments include continuous glass making, tables and rollers, instead of rods for blowing. The latter was a slow and costly process, he noted.

Glass used for store doors and basketball backboards is a non-laminated, soft type. The patented thermopane is a sandwich of glass with air space between. The air space is filled at low temperatures so it is moisture free.

A strong safety glass is made with the inner section under more stress than the outer section.

This glass will withstand tremendous impact. When it shatters, it falls into small pieces like rice grains.

Dr. Wampler was among those who worked on laminated glass, perfected so it doesn't shatter or discolor, through use of plastics inside them. Tinted car windshields, for example, are made by coloring the inner plastic.

Also discussed were a double grinding process which gives glass sheets, parallel and optically plane, so there is no distortion, and airplane windshields with electric heating elements to avoid frost.

Briefly Told

The Goodwill Club meets in the clubrooms at 2 p. m., Thursday.

Two yard light poles at the Bay de Noc Motel of Frank Richards were knocked down Tuesday at 11:20 a. m., in a hit-run accident, State Police have been advised.

A report has been received by State Police from Richard Frock, Rte. 1, that 62 cement blocks were taken from his restaurant near the Big Spring while it was closed.

The 11th Congressional Democratic meeting scheduled to be held at Baraga on Sunday, Dec. 8, has been cancelled, said Chairman Robert Olsen of Escanaba. The meeting will be rescheduled and held in January, the date to be announced later.

In a minor accident at 1:15 p m., Tuesday, a car driven by Glenn Neeson, 115 S. 3rd St., slid in turning right off Cedar to Oak, and hit the left side of a car driven by Jack Quick, 200 Steuben which was on Oak near the S. Cedar St., intersection.

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were Bobby Lancour, Gulliver, John Patz, 202 N. 2nd, Della Bruley, 364 Lake, John Archambeau, 651 Garden, Robert Sedan, 311 Bear, John Schmitt, Rte. 1, John Trezciak, Star Rte., Daniel Peterson, Cooks and Cameron Chisholm, Cherry Hill Drive, Newberry. Sheets Make New Decors

Now a woman can decorate the bedroom with sheets — and a stack of matching ones makes a great gift to the seamstress.

Sheets in seven different colors to carry out any decorative scheme, now come in matching solids, candy stripes and smart polka dots. With these, enchanting effects for headboards, canopies, dust ruffles, draperies, cafe curtains, vanity skirts are easily created.

It's the arresting combination of matching colors in solids, dramatic stripes and smart polka dots in one unified scheme that does the decorating magic. Use the solid color hem borders to give the creations a professional finish.

Inexperienced sewers need not hesitate to start redoing the bedroom. Most of the decorating elements involve merely straight sewing.

Now about economy, hear this: a double bed sheet contains about seven square yards of handsome washable fabric. Divide this into the price of a double bed sheet. You quickly see why it's less expensive to use sheets for decorating than to buy comparable washable fabric by the yard.

This new family of sheets in matching solid colors, stripes and polka dots has an almost magical power to unify and to integrate unrelated decorative elements in your bedroom. Surprisingly enough, the authoritative combination of patterns in matching colors makes a small bedroom appear large and a cluttered, cut-up room serene and tranquil.

Harbor Work At Gladstone Is Recommended

U. S. Senator Patrick McNamara today informed the Escanaba Daily Press that Senator Ellender's Subcommittee on Civil Works, of which McNamara is a member, has recommended an appropriation of $200,000 to the Senate committee on Appropriations for construction of the Gladstone harbor in fiscal 1964.

McNamara said: "The Senate Committee on Appropriations meets Friday and I feel confident that the full committee will adopt the recommendations of Senator Ellender's subcommittee in reporting the civil works appropriations bill for fiscal 1964 to the Senate."

The work involved includes construction of a channel from deep water into the Theisen-Clemens Co., marine terminal at Kipling and a ship turning basin at the docksite. The channel would be dredged to a depth of 24 feet and be 200 feet wide.

Gladstone City Manager H. J. Henrikson today said that the channel will lead into the dock where the turn-basin will be located. The turn-basin will be 800 feet in width. He said the channel and turn-basin will be triangular in shape.

The project was first undertaken by the City of Gladstone, Brampton Township and Theisen-Clemens Co., in 1960 when a study of needs was made. The preliminary survey on needs was made by the Federal Engineers of Milwaukee. A follow-up survey on the physical needs was made by the U. S. Corps of Engineers.

Purpose of the channel and the turn-basin is to allow larger watercraft to use the Kipling oil terminal dock. If approved, the project will be completed by the U. S. Corps of Engineers and be financed entirely by federal funds.

Parties Planned By Girl Scouts

Girl Scout Troop 4 held their regular meeting at the First Lutheran Church parish hall Tuesday and made plans for their Christmas activities. Mrs. Clifford Mineau is the troop leader.

The girls will hold their Christmas party on Dec. 21 and will invite Mrs. Joseph Thibeault, who often has the troop parties at her home. They will sing Christmas Carols the evening of Dec. 19 and will make Christmas wreaths at their next meeting.

The girls reported a very successful peanut sale and will make about $33 for their troop.

DALTON, Ga. (AP)—The end of one era and the beginning of another was marked here recently when Cabin Crafts, a pioneer in the tufted textile industry in this area, discontinued tufted bedspreads.

How To Care For Holiday Gift Plants

The millions of house plants that will be sent and received this Christmas will live longer, healthier lives if a few simple tips on house plant care are observed.

- Make sure gift plants are professionally grown and kept in porous red clay flower pots. Most top growers provide your local florists with holiday plants in clay containers to insure quality plants. Clay pots dissipate excess water and leach out harmful salts in the soil.
- Don't over-water. Horticultural experts say that overwatering is a leading reason for premature fading of holiday gift plants. One simple rule of green thumb gardening is to give your Christmas plant the "thumb test". Simply touch the top soil of the plant and if it's dry, water it.
- Use warm water. The more delicate Christmas plants react poorly to the shock of cold water.
- Over-heating is a hazard. Keep plants away from radiators and other heat sources. Porous clay containers will help your gift plants tolerate the heat by keeping root structures 10 to 15 degrees cooler than non-porous containers.
- Professional care instructions are important. Ask your florist for detailed watering and lighting instructions. When you give a holiday plant send along a personalized note suggesting the proper care for each type of Christmas plant.

The popular poinsettia, for instance, will probably have to be watered from the surface, since they're usually bedecked with foil paper and ribbons. If your plant is clay-potted, excess moisture will be absorbed through the porous walls of the clay container.

This is especially important in caring for poinsettias as they like to be kept on the dry side and drainage must be adequate. These brilliant Christmas plants thrive on warmth and humidity and should be kept away from extremes of temperature—cold drafts, hot radiators, etc.

Azaleas too, are always appropriate for Christmas giving. They will blossom longer if kept out of direct sunlight in a cool room and away from radiators and other direct heat.

A bright and festive Christmas plant, whether a kalanchoe or a Jerusalem cherry, a compact chrysanthemum or begonia, an azalea or traditional poinsettia, will make a lasting gift or a welcomed addition to your own home, if you have a little thought for its care.

• Over-heating is a hazard. Keep plants away from radiators and other heat sources. Porous clay containers will help your gift plants tolerate the heat by keeping root structures 10 to 15 degrees cooler than non-porous containers.

• Professional care instructions are important. Ask your florist for detailed watering and lighting instructions. When you give a holiday plant send along a personalized note suggesting the proper care for each type of Christmas plant.

The popular poinsettia, for instance, will probably have to be watered from the surface, since they're usually bedecked with foil paper and ribbons. If your plant is clay-potted, excess moisture will be absorbed through the porous walls of the clay container.

This is especially important in caring for poinsettias as they like to be kept on the dry side and drainage must be adequate. These brilliant Christmas plants thrive on warmth and humidity and should be kept away from extremes of temperature—cold drafts, hot radiators, etc.

Azaleas too, are always appropriate for Christmas giving. They will blossom longer if kept out of direct sunlight in a cool room and away from radiators and other direct heat.

A bright and festive Christmas plant, whether a kalanchoe or a Jerusalem cherry, a compact chrysanthemum or begonia, an azalea or traditional poinsettia, will make a lasting gift or a welcomed addition to your own home, if you have a little thought for its care.

NO MORE TUFTS

DALTON, Ga. (AP)—The end of one era and the beginning of another was marked here recently when Cabin Crafts, a pioneer in the tufted textile industry in this area, discontinued tufted bedspreads.

Cabin Crafts, which like all of the tufted manufacturers in north Georgia once concentrated on the chenille spreads, now will concentrate its production facilities on carpeting.

Middies Early With Pep Rally

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Naval Academy midshipmen, brimming over with enthusiasm for the Army - Navy football game, poured out of the Academy Wednesday night and through the streets of downtown Annapolis.

Several hundred of the shouting Middies descended on the governor's mansion and called in vain for Gov. J. Millard Tawes.

"They banged on the door and frightened us out of our wits, said Mrs. Evelyn Andrews, hostess at Government House. She said Gov. Tawes was out of town and she and Mrs. Tawes were asleep when the swarm of midshipmen arrived shortly after 10 p.m.

Midshipmen officers, aided by Annapolis city police, rounded up the sign-carrying celebrants and headed them back to the academy.

Academy officials said it was an impromptu pep rally for the football game in Philadelphia Saturday.

The regular pep rally and bonfire is scheduled Thursday night. "I guess they just couldn't wait," an Academy spokesman said.

Gloves Grand For Christmas

Fashions in gloves go to every length this winter, so you can't go wrong no matter which length you select. And, you'll find hundreds of styles and colors in smooth or finely grained kid leather, soft suede and doeskin leathers and textured pigskins.

Since most coats end between the wrist and the elbow this year, your gift will be welcome whether it's a six-button kid gauntlet, an eight-button doe-skin musketaire or a 12-button elbow-length glove.

Though most leather gloves will depend on their soft, supple elegance for fashion effect, some styles feature a thin strip of fur at the wrists, contrasting leather lacing around the cuffs, or contrasting color stitching on the fingers.

If, after all these years, you still don't know her glove size, get her a pair of the new leather stretch gloves that fit most women.

The leather glove color range covers all the shades in winter's fashion spotlight such as cranberry, winter blue, bright gold, pine needle, and all tones of brown and beige from bitter chocolate to bone.

In the evening, when the full-length glove lends formal grace to an evening ensemble, leather gloves — smooth or sueded — are smart in either white or black. Frequently, a white glove has black beading other detailing and vice versa.

For the suburbanite and sportswoman, pigskin gloves complete a casual ensemble. For sure, frost-free control of her car wheel, select gloves of smooth or textured leather lined in wool.

Tax Bills Show Increase Over Those Of 1962

County and school tax bills now being distributed to property owners in Gladstone reflect an increase of $3.25 per $1,000 over that of last year as the result of additional levies voted for the Bay de Noc Community College and the new Delta County jail.

The 1963 tax rate has been set at $34.80 per $1,000 of county equalized valuation, compared with $31.55 for 1962.

The new levies, plus school debt millages for retirement and school operation, brings the total voted excess over the 15-mill limitation to $19.80.

Gladstone's school debt retirement levy for 1963 is actually .3 mills below the 1.1302 mills voted. The levy for the new county jail on the 1963 tax is for one year only.

Bunning Traded To Philadelphia For Don Demeter

By CHARLES MAHER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Right-hander Jim Bunning, who had fallen into disfavor in Detroit, was traded to the Philadelphia Phillies today in a four-player deal—the first interleague transaction of the year.

The Tigers got outfielder Don Demeter and right-hander Jack Hamilton and sent catcher Gus Triandos to Philadelphia along with Bunning.

It was the fourth trade of the winter baseball meetings and the second for the Tigers in recent weeks. They traded outfielder Rocky Colavito and pitcher Bob Anderson to the Kansas City Athletics last month for second baseman Jerry Lumpe and pitchers Dave Wickersham and Ed Rakow.

Bunning, who won 20 games in 1957, and pitched a no-hitter against Boston in 1958, lost 13 of his 25 decisions last season. It was only his second losing season in the last eight years. His career record is 118-87.

Bunning, 32, admitted last summer he and Dressen didn't see eye to eye. Dressen said before the season ended that Bunning and Colavito might be traded.

Hebenton Sets Playing Record

CHICAGO (AP)—Andy Hebenton, 34-year-old Boston Bruin right winger, became the National Hockey League's new iron-man Wednesday night.

He played in his 581st consecutive game as the league-leading Chicago Black Hawks tied the Bruins 2-2 on Bobby Hull's goal at 19:29 of the final period.

Toronto beat Montreal 3-0 in the other NHL game scheduled Wednesday at Toronto.

"I guess it is the thrill of my career to set the record," said Hebenton, who has played eight years without missing a game.

"I hope they let me play 581 more. I feel good. Naturally, I wish we had won. The game got away from us."

Hebenton, a native of Winnipeg, began his streak on Oct. 7, 1955 in Chicago Stadium when he was with the New York Rangers. He was with that club until Boston drafted him last summer.

He said his key to endurance is simple:

"First, you have to have a lot of luck. Second, you must avoid major injuries. And third, you have to stay in condition."

Hebenton cracked the NHL mark of 580 straight games set by Johnny Wilson when he played from 1952-1960. Five of his seasons were with Detroit, two with Chicago and one with Toronto.

Spartan End Picks Denver

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State end Matt Snorton confirmed today he has signed a contract to play football for the Denver Broncos of the American Football League.

Snorton's denial Wednesday of signing a contract was "due to a mixup between the Denver personnel and myself," he said. A similar explanation of the denial came from Broncos general manager Jack Faulkner.

The Detroit Lions of the National Football League also had dickered with Snorton. He was their No. 2 draft choice.

Title Bout Site Still Not Sure

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Is there a chance that the projected Sonnny Liston-Cassius Clay fight may not be held in Las Vegas after all? Could it be that Miami is under serious consideration?

Las Vegas backers, who might be called unofficial exponents of positive thinking, profess to see no such threat.

Jack Nilon, advisor of heavyweight champion Liston, flew to Miami from Philadelphia to meet today or Friday with Bill MacDonald. MacDonald, who sponsored the last Floyd Patterson - Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight, reportedly has offered a $625,000 guaranteed gate if the Liston-Clay fight is held in Miami.

But Ash Resnick, Las Vegas hotel executive and friend of Liston, showed no apparent concern. He said Nilon was just "doing Miami the courtesy of looking at its offer." He added: "I still feel we'll get the fight."

Resnick said Jackie Gaughan, an owner of the El Cortez Hotel here, could personally back a $400,000 guarantee.

"A $400,000 guarantee here is better than $625,000 in Miami," Resnick argued. His reference was to the fact the Miami area would have to be blacked out for television if the Florida city got the fight.

MacDonald, reached Wednesday night at his Miami Beach home, was also fairly confident.

"I think we have a good chance to land the fight," he said. "We can give it the promotion that will add prestige to the boxing business.

"We have the best possible Convention Hall, parking, hotels, housing, police protection and transportation. Our atmosphere is clean—the very best."

And at Louisville, Ky., Bill Faversham, Clay's manager, maintained that no site had been selected. "Nothing has been settled," he said.

Spartans Edge Basketball Foe

By The Associated Press

The four college basketball games played in Michigan Wednesday night all were close—two were decided by just one point — but the two Michigan teams that venture out of state were whipped.

At Bowling Green, Ohio, Hillsdale suffered a 98-56 loss to Bowling Green. And Detroit lost to Purdue, 86-60, at Lafayette, Ind.

Michigan State slipped past Western Michigan 101-100 on Marcus Sanders' tip-in basket with 20 seconds left, and Kalamazoo barely salvaged a 68-67 victory over Albion in two contests in the state.

In the other games, Adrian defeated the University of Windsor, 73-71, and Central Michigan beat Ferris State, 63-56.

Michigan State now has won both its games this season, and has passed the 100-point mark both times. Western has lost both its games by single points in the last minutes.

In Wednesday night's contest, neither team pulled ahead by more than five points during the game. Western held its biggest lead, 49-44, at halftime.

Keeping Western in contention was 5-foot-9 guard Manny Newsome, who scored 45 points for the night.

Albion almost forced its battle with Kalamazoo into overtime, but Larry Colburn missed a free throw at the very end.

Adrian led all the way in its victory over Windsor, although Windsor gained during the second half. The Bulldogs had led by seven points, 38-31, at halftime.

Central Michigan took over the lead for keeps with 18 minutes remaining in its game against Ferris. Sharpshooting made the difference. Central hit on 43 per cent of its field goal tries, while Ferris made only 26 per cent.

Despite John Rowan's 32 points for Hillsdale, the Dales trailed all the way at Bowling Green. They didn't score their first field goal until almost 10 minutes into the game.

Detroit blew a 59-52 lead with 12 minutes to play against Purdue.

Sports In Brief

The Los Angeles Angels had their best luck last season against Baltimore and Minnesota. They split 18 games with each rival.

Houston pitchers allowed the fewest walks (378) in the major leagues last season.

Twenty-four players were named in the National League's most valuable player poll but not one catcher drew recognition from the 20 writers who voted.

Former Stanford pitcher Darrell Sutherland has been added to the Philadelphia Phils roster to protect him from the first-year player draft.

New Met outfielder George Altman played in three All-Star games when he was with the Chicago Cubs.

Oldest pitcher on the staff of the New York Mets is Carl Willey, 31. He won 9, lost 14 last season.

Don Heffner, Mel Harder and Wes Westrum will coach under Met Manager Casey Stengel next season.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant of the Cleveland Indians allowed 30 home runs last season, one more than teammate Pedro Ramos and three more than Dick Donovan.

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y. (AP)—Freddy Caposella spends six afternoons a week as the track announcer at Aduduct but at night you won't hear a peep from Cappy. That's when he's engrossed in a hobby that has kept him intensely interested for 20 years. He's a stamp collector.

"I talk all day to earn a living," says Cappy, "and when I get home I find stamp collecting a tranquilizer.

Capossella, 59, has announced more than 50,000 thoroughbred races in 26 years. He has handled the Kentucky Derby seven times.

Lions' Defense Falls To Fourth

NEW YORK (AP) — While compiling a four-game winless streak, the Detroit Lions have fallen from first to fourth in defensive ratings of the National Football League.

The Lions, who brought their record to 4-7-1 by tying Green Bay on Thanksgiving Day, rank ninth in offense in the 14-team league.

NFL statistics show the Lions have allowed their opponents to gain 3,165 yards—an average of 263.8 a game. The top defensive team, Chicago, has given up only 2,709 yards—or 225.8 a game.

Detroit's strong point has been pass defense, in which it ranks second, with 1,303 yards allowed. Chicago has yielded 1,174 yards on pass plays.

On offense, the Lions have gained 3,656 yards—1,298 rushing and 2,358 passing. This averages to 304.7 a game.

Bellamy Carries Baltimore Quint

BALTIMORE (AP) — "Walter has taken it upon himself to carry this club on his back—and he's done it."

That's how Coach Bob Leonard describes the job done by Walt Bellamy of the Baltimore Bullets so far during the National Basketball Association season.

Belllamy, starting his third season in the NBA, turned in a sparkling effort Wednesday night as the revitalized Bullets whipped the Los Angeles Lakers 118-98. The 6-foot-11 pivotman scored 48 points—24 in the final quarter — and grabbed 29 rebounds.

The victory extended Baltimore's winning streak to three, modest by any standards, but a record for the team during its three years of existence.

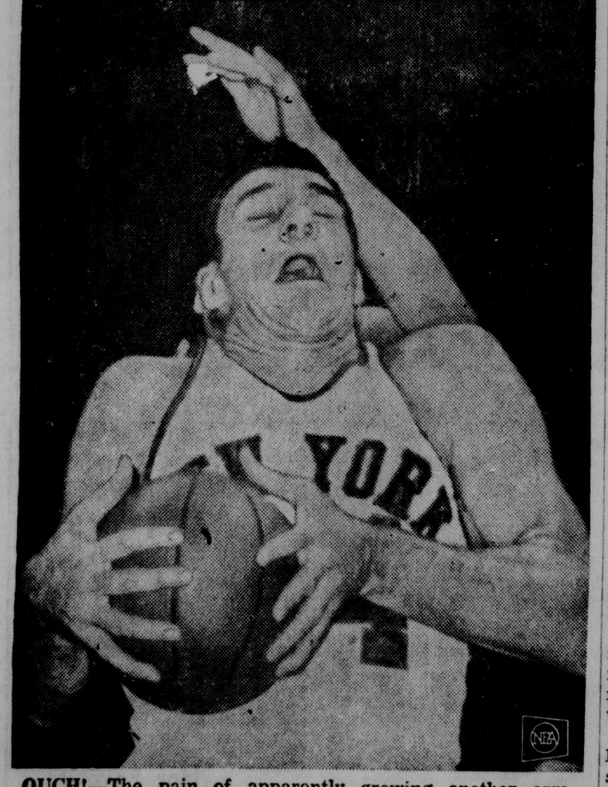
In other games Wednesday, Len Chappell's basket with 32 seconds left at Detroit gave the New York Knickerbockers a 120-119 victory over the injury-riddled Pistons and the St. Louis Hawks, playing at home, pulled to within one-half game of the league-leading Lakers in the Western Division by defeating the San Francisco Warriors 105-83.

Chappell's clutch basket, which marked the 26th time the lead had changed hands, ended a five-game New York losing streak and dealt Detroit its seventh loss in a row. The Pistons, minus three regulars because of injuries, lost two of their remaining eight players on fouls. Chappell and Ray Scott of Detroit shared scoring honors with 30 points.

Bellamy came to the rescue after Baltimore blew a 40-20 lead and fell behind 75-72 as the final quarter began. In the next five minutes, he crammed in 14 of Baltimore's next 21 points as the Bullets pulled ahead 93-82.

In the final 32 seconds, Detroit had three shots—including one by Willie Jones which rimmed the basket and came out—with one second to go.

Detroit led 36-33 after the first quarter and 61-60 at halftime. They were behind, 96-91, at the end of the third quarter.



OUCH!—The pain of apparently growing another arm seems almost unbearable to Len Chappell of the New York Knickerbockers as he takes a rebound during a game against the Lakers at New York's Madison Square Garden. The extra arm belongs to Los Angeles' Don Nelson.

Fifth-ranked Wichita, NIT champion Providence and powerful Louisville had trouble finding the basket, but it was Notre Dame that was seeing double.

Wichita, Providence and Louisville were victims of shocking upsets Wednesday night while Notre Dame ran into a pair of twin terrors—Tom and Dick Van Arsdale of Indiana, who combined for 76 points in a 108-102 victory over the Irish.

Wichita became the first member of the top ten to lose a game as two foul shots by Steve Tradenick clinched a 75-74 victory for unheralded Texas Western. Providence bowed to Assumption, Mass., 83-80 and Louisville was jolted 78-65 by Eastern Kentucky.

Two other top ten teams saw action — second-ranked NYU and third-ranked Cincinnati—and both had difficulty. Barry Kramer and Happy Hairston led the Violets from behind for a 82-65 victory over Cornell and the Bearcats stalled in the closing minutes to hold off Miami, Ohio, 60-56.

In other top games, sophomore Steve Renko, a football quarterback, threw in 10 key points as Kansas whipped Arkansas 73-60, Stan Luechtefeld dropped in two foul shots to clinch St. Louis' 81-78 decision over Illinois, Purdue's Mel Garland hit for 27 points in an 86-80 victory over Detroit and Virginia Tech handed Mississippi State its first defeat at home in three years, 93-77, with Howard Pardue scoring 32 points.

Indiana had difficulty with Notre Dame throughout but finally pulled ahead after 6-foot-8 Larry Jesewitz fouled out. Jon McGlockin's basket put the Hoosiers ahead 86-85 and the Van Arsdale twins took it from there. Dick collected 42 points, Tom 34 as they hit on 29 of 53 shots.

NYU had difficulty getting its fast-break patterns working smoothly and trailed Cornell by as many as seven points before Kramer and Hairston triggered the Violets' second half comeback. Kramer scored 23 points, Hairston 22.

Cincinnati not only had difficulty, but its hands full. With 1:25 left, baskets by Charlie Coles moved Miami within 57-33 and Coach Ed Jucker sent the Bearcats into a freeze that held off the Redskins. Ron Bonham topped Cincinnati with 26 points.

Top scoring honors for the night went to a loser, Manny Newsome of Western Michigan. Newsome scored 45 points on 17 field goals and all 11 of his foul shots, but a tip-in by Marcus Sanders with 20 seconds left gave Michigan State a 101-100 victory.

Elsewhere, Dan Wolters led the way with 16 points as California defeated St. Mary's, Calif., 65-50, sophomore Richie Moore took scoring honors for Villanova with 25 points in a 72-59 victory over Princeton, sophomore Henry Finkel scored 22 in Dayton's 74-48 walloping of California at Davis and Ernie Thompson and Levern Tart each collected 25 for Bradley in a 101-70 thumping of Idaho State.

Georgia Hires Vince Dooley

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—Vincent Joseph Vince Dooley, 31-year-old freshman coach from Auburn, has taken over as head football coach at Georgia in a move to get the Bulldogs back on the winning road after three losing seasons.

Dooley succeeds Johnny Griffith, who compiled a 10-16-4 record during three years of unrest in the Georgia athletic department. Griffith resigned Wednesday, effective Jan. 31.

Doooley is the second young coach to be named head of a Southeastern Conference football team in three days. Douglas Dickey, 31, an assistant on Coach Frank Broyles' Arkansas staff, was selected Monday to replace Jim McDonald at Tennessee.

The Georgia athletic board accepted Griffith's resignation Wednesday, unanimously approved Dooley's selection and signed him to a four-year contract. His salary was not announced.

A native of Mobile, Ala., Dooley was quarterback of Auburn's 1953 Gator Bowl team coached by Ralph Jordan. After serving in the Marines, he returned to Auburn in 1956 as a backfield assistant. He has been freshman coach since 1961.

Griffith, 39, said he has not decided whether to accept an offer to remain with the university in the physical education department.

Bunning Traded To Philadelphia For Don Demeter

By CHARLES MAHER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Right-hander Jim Bunning, who had fallen into disfavor in Detroit, was traded to the Philadelphia Phillies today in a four-player deal—the first interleague transaction of the year.

The Tigers got outfielder Don Demeter and right-hander Jack Hamilton and sent catcher Gus Triandos to Philadelphia along with Bunning.

It was the fourth trade of the winter baseball meetings and the second for the Tigers in recent weeks. They traded outfielder Rocky Colavito and pitcher Bob Anderson to the Kansas City Athletics last month for second baseman Jerry Lumpe and pitchers Dave Wickersham and Ed Rakow.

Bunning, who won 20 games in 1957, and pitched a no-hitter against Boston in 1958, lost 13 of his 25 decisions last season. It was only his second losing season in the last eight years. His career record is 118-87.

Bunning, 32, admitted last summer he and Dressen didn't see eye to eye. Dressen said before the season ended that Bunning and Colavito might be traded.

Hebenton Sets Playing Record

CHICAGO (AP)—Andy Hebenton, 34-year-old Boston Bruin right winger, became the National Hockey League's new iron-man Wednesday night.

He played in his 581st consecutive game as the league-leading Chicago Black Hawks tied the Bruins 2-2 on Bobby Hull's goal at 19:29 of the final period.

Toronto beat Montreal 3-0 in the other NHL game scheduled Wednesday at Toronto.

"I guess it is the thrill of my career to set the record," said Hebenton, who has played eight years without missing a game.

"I hope they let me play 581 more. I feel good. Naturally, I wish we had won. The game got away from us."

Hebenton, a native of Winnipeg, began his streak on Oct. 7, 1955 in Chicago Stadium when he was with the New York Rangers. He was with that club until Boston drafted him last summer.

Hebenton cracked the NHL mark of 580 straight games set by Johnny Wilson when he played from 1952-1960. Five of his seasons were with Detroit, two with Chicago and one with Toronto.

Title Bout Site Still Not Sure

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Is there a chance that the projected Sonnny Liston-Cassius Clay fight may not be held in Las Vegas after all? Could it be that Miami is under serious consideration?

Las Vegas backers, who might be called unofficial exponents of positive thinking, profess to see no such threat.

Jack Nilon, advisor of heavyweight champion Liston, flew to Miami from Philadelphia to meet today or Friday with Bill MacDonald. MacDonald, who sponsored the last Floyd Patterson - Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight, reportedly has offered a $625,000 guaranteed gate if the Liston-Clay fight is held in Miami.

But Ash Resnick, Las Vegas hotel executive and friend of Liston, showed no apparent concern. He said Nilon was just "doing Miami the courtesy of looking at its offer." He added: "I still feel we'll get the fight."

Resnick said Jackie Gaughan, an owner of the El Cortez Hotel here, could personally back a $400,000 guarantee.

"A $400,000 guarantee here is better than $625,000 in Miami," Resnick argued. His reference was to the fact the Miami area would have to be blacked out for television if the Florida city got the fight.

MacDonald, reached Wednesday night at his Miami Beach home, was also fairly confident.

"I think we have a good chance to land the fight," he said. "We can give it the promotion that will add prestige to the boxing business.

"We have the best possible Convention Hall, parking, hotels, housing, police protection and transportation. Our atmosphere is clean—the very best."

And at Louisville, Ky., Bill Faversham, Clay's manager, maintained that no site had been selected. "Nothing has been settled," he said.

A QUIET HOBBY

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y. (AP)—Freddy Caposella spends six afternoons a week as the track announcer at Adueduct but at night you won't hear a peep from Cappy. That's when he's engrossed in a hobby that has kept him intensely interested for 20 years. He's a stamp collector.

"I talk all day to earn a living," says Cappy, "and when I get home I find stamp collecting a tranquilizer.

Bellamy Carries Baltimore Quint

BALTIMORE (AP) — "Walter has taken it upon himself to carry this club on his back—and he's done it."

That's how Coach Bob Leonard describes the job done by Walt Bellamy of the Baltimore Bullets so far during the National Basketball Association season.

Belllamy, starting his third season in the NBA, turned in a sparkling effort Wednesday night as the revitalized Bullets whipped the Los Angeles Lakers 118-98. The 6-foot-11 pivotman scored 48 points—24 in the final quarter — and grabbed 29 rebounds.

The victory extended Baltimore's winning streak to three, modest by any standards, but a record for the team during its three years of existence.

In other games Wednesday, Len Chappell's basket with 32 seconds left at Detroit gave the New York Knickerbockers a 120-119 victory over the injury-riddled Pistons and the St. Louis Hawks, playing at home, pulled to within one-half game of the league-leading Lakers in the Western Division by defeating the San Francisco Warriors 105-83.

Chappell's clutch basket, which marked the 26th time the lead had changed hands, ended a five-game New York losing streak and dealt Detroit its seventh loss in a row. The Pistons, minus three regulars because of injuries, lost two of their remaining eight players on fouls. Chappell and Ray Scott of Detroit shared scoring honors with 30 points.

Bellamy came to the rescue after Baltimore blew a 40-20 lead and fell behind 75-72 as the final quarter began. In the next five minutes, he crammed in 14 of Baltimore's next 21 points as the Bullets pulled ahead 93-82.

In the final 32 seconds, Detroit had three shots—including one by Willie Jones which rimmed the basket and came out—with one second to go.

Detroit led 36-33 after the first quarter and 61-60 at halftime. They were behind, 96-91, at the end of the third quarter.

Vikings Set Pace In Grid Signings

By MIKE RATHET

Minnesota's Vikings never got out of the trenches the last time, but they're winning this year's checkbook war for the nation's top college football talent.

The vengeful Vikings, who had their top two 1962 draft picks intercepted by the American Football League, have turned the tables this time while pulling the National Football League out front in the early roundup of the country's outstanding players.

The Vikings signed their seventh and eighth selections Wednesday — Arkansas tackle Wes Bryant and fullback Bill McWatters of North Texas State. The Vikings previously had grabbed off their Nos. 1 and 2 picks—tackle Carl Eller of Minnesota and Southern California end Hal Bedsole.

The Vikings' signings account for one-third of the 12 draft selections signed by the NFL.

The Chiefs outbid Detroit of the NFL for their first choice, quarterback Pete Beathard of Southern California, making it three quarterbacks the Lions have lost to the AFL in three years. Detroit previously was outbid for John Hadl, now with San Diego, and Eddie Wilson, now with the Chiefs.

Besides Minnesota, Dallas and St. Louis in the NFL each have signed four players.

The Cowboys have inked Georgia Tech quarterback Billy Lothridge, their No. 6 pick, No. 12 Johnny Ray Norman, a flanker from Northwest Louisiana and two free agents from Tennessee—tailback Mallon Faircloth and end Buddy Fisher.

The Cardinals have contracts from No. 2 Hershel Turner, Kentucky tackle; Syracuse end Dick Bowman, their No. 6 pick, and two futures picked last year—Kansas State fullback Willie Crenshaw and Arkansas tackle Bob Clay.

Baltimore, Chicago and Los Angeles have signed their top selections, the Colts getting Indiana back Marv Woodson, the Bears grabbing Tennessee tackle Dick Evey and the Rams coming up with Utah State quarterback Bill Munson.

Los Angeles also has signed Occidental quarterback Bill Redell, a free agent. Pittsburgh has signed Jackson State tackle Ben McGee, No. 4.

Besides Beathard, the Chiefs have signed two futures—New Mexico State back Preacher Pilot and Georgia Tech back Joe Auer. Oakland's AFL entry has nailed its fourth and ninth selections, Boston U. linebacker Bill Budness and John Williamson, Louisiana Tech guard.

Elsewhere in the AFL, Buffalo has signed Boston U. halfback George Byrd, Tulsa end J. B. Simmons and a free agent—halfback Bob Curington of North Carolina College; Houston has signed No. 5 pick Texas A&I halfback Sid Blanks, and Denver has signed No. 7 Ray Kubala, Texas A&M tackle.

Navy To Spring Surprise Again On Army Eleven?

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Coach Paul Dietzel and his Army football team might be excused for tossing around in their bunks these nights, wondering aloud:

"What is Navy going to pull this time?"

In recent years the Midshipmen haven't been content just to show up with apparently superior personnel. (They've won the last four games). They inevitably come up with a gimmick that seems to toss the Cadets for a loop.

It could happen again Saturday when the Middies from Annapolis and the Black Knights from West Point clash in their 64th meeting at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium.

Wayne Hardin, the red-haired Navy coach, seems to get a puckish delight out of springing nerve-jarring tricks which are kept in closest secrecy until just before the kickoff.

In 1959, the game that started the current streak, Hardin installed a brand-new formation for the Army game — a formation calling for wide flankers and plays not used all year.

Score: Navy 43, Army 12.

The next year — 1960 — Army was expecting some more of the same skullduggery. The Knights were ready for anything — and were waiting for it. Hardin suspected this, so he didn't change a play. The other shoe didn't drop.

Score: Navy 17, Army 12.

In 1961, Navy warmed up in regular attire. Then, just before the kickoff, the Middies loped onto the field with their "Flaming Mamie" helmets. If the Army team was stunned, the 100,000 spectators. We half-blinded. The helmets were painted with luminous aircraft paint — a garish orange color. On the sleeves of their jerseys, Navy men had inscribed: "Beat Army."

Score: Navy 13, Army 7.

Last year, the Middies had an answer for Army's celebrated Chinese Bandits, the defensive unit plan which Dietzel had employed so effectively at Louisiana State.

On the front of every Navy helmet were inscribed the words: "Jolly Roger." On one side was written the word "Beat" and on the other the word "Army."

Nothing tricky about that, except the words were inscribed in Chinese.

Score: Navy 34, Army 14.

Beathard Takes Fabulous Offer From N F L Club

DETROIT (AP)—Kansas City snagged the Detroit Lions' top National Football League draft choice because the bidding was too rich — even for millionaire owner William Clay Ford.

"Lamar Hunt (oil millionaire owner of the American Football League franchise at Kansas City) apparently was prepared to go first cabin all the way," Ford said Wednesday. He made the comment after Kansas City landed quarterback Pete Beathard of Southern California.

"But he's welcome to the boy," Ford added. "It's good riddance for us at those prices."

Admittedly stunned by the deal Beathard made for himself, Ford said he "wouldn't dare match an offer" like Kansas City's. He described it as "exorbitant and unrealistic."

According to Ford, the rival AFL club beat out the Lions by handing Beathard:

1. A bonus in excess of $15,000 for signing.
2. A no-cut contract calling for more than $20,000 a year.
3. A paid-up life insurance policy.
4. Option on shares of stock in a West Coast pay-TV corporation, cost of which would be financed by Kansas City.
5. A new car.
6. Free rent in an apartment for an unspecified duration, but presumably for no less than a year.

The Lions reportedly went as high as a $20,000 contract offer in their attempts to land Beathard, their No. 1 choice in last Monday's NFL draft and Kansas City's top pick in the AFL draft last Saturday.

Kelso Named Horse Of Year

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — To the surprise of nobody, Kelso from Mrs. Richard C. duPont's Bohemia Stable was named today as America's champion throughbred race horse for the fourth straight year by the Thoroughbred Racing Associations.

Kelso also was the chosen Horse of the Year in a poll conducted by Turf and Sports Digest, completing his sweep of the balloting.

The swift - running gelding, who needs only $168,167 to pass Round Table as the world's leading money winning horse, began his reign as a 3-year-old in 1960. He was the unanimous choice of the TRA Board of Selection this year.

His earnings of $569,762 this season brought his life-time bankroll to $1,581,702 for 31 victories in 45 starts.

Kelso's only out-of-the money performance this year was in his debut in the seven-furlong Palm Beach Handicap at Hialeah Park, when he was fourth back of Ridan, Jaipur and Merry Ruler.

He went on to win nine races, carrying as much as 134 pounds under handicap conditions. At one stage he put together a string of eight straight stakes victories, including an unprecedented fourth straight victory in the two miles of the Jockey Club Gold Cup.

Baseball Owners Rapped; Players Seek New Rules

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two outspoken Dodgers, Don Drysdale and Lee Walls, accused major league club owners of short-sightedness today because of their failure to give wholehearted support to the players' plea to lengthen the big league careers of veterans.

The star right-hander and veteran utility player also tore into the controversial first year player rule which they charged was hurting attendance in particular and baseball in general.

They gave their views about the same time that the Detroit Tigers traded pitcher Jim Bunning and catcher Gus Triandos to the Philadelphia Phillies for outfielder Don Demeter and pitcher Jack Hamilton.

"The first year player rule, which clogs up the big league rosters with inexperienced, unproven kids not only deprives proven veteran players of their livelihood but is unfair to the baseball loving fans," declared Walls, the Dodgers' player representative and a member of the player-owner executive council.

Drysdale, a top flight star only 26 years of age who has no fear of losing his job, was equally vehement against the rule which shunts veterans to the minors in favor of kids.

"It's a harmful rule," he said. "It helps nobody and hurts everybody. It hurts the veterans, the kids, the owners, the public. But most of all, it hurts baseball."

The athletes' complaints were issued following the player representatives meeting with the owners Wednesday in which they urged their bosses to give their eight-year veterans a break.

In a formal resolution, they asked that clubs increase their 25-player roster to 26, the extra player being at least an eight-year veteran.

This, the players felt would give more protection to some of the older players who have been shippped to the minors to make room for the one-year rookies who must be kept on the big league roster because of the first-year player rule.

"The owners told us they would consider it," said Walls, "but the indication was clear, at least to me, they weren't in a mood to go along with us. They are opposed to it because it would cost them a total of around $320,000 more in salary by keeping an additional 20 players."

Big Ten Cuts Athletic Aid

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten is expected to act formally on a new athletic recruiting measure today.

Faculty representatives and athletic directors are to vote on a plan limiting tenders of financial aid. It was adopted last October but was sent back to individual schools for approval. The new vote is to officially certify it as part of the Big Ten policy.

The plan sets a limit of 70 accepted scholarship tenders for each conference member per year. Of this total, a maximum of 30 is established for football, five for basketball and 35 for other sports. The present limit is a total of 80.

NEW YORK (AP) — Babe Parilli heard the boo birds Sunday in the first half. He also must have seen the writing on the wall with the morning papers headlining the news that the Boston Patriots had drafted young Jack Concannon of Boston College for 1964.

With the fans yelling "We want (Tom) Yewcik", Parilli gathered the Patriots together and led them to a 17-7 victory over the Buffalo Bills that boosted Boston into a tie for the lead in the Eastern Division of the American Football League.

On the strength of that second half comeback, Parilli was named today Associated Press Player of the Week in the American Football League.

The Babe threw a touchdown pass to Larry Garron for 44 yards and set up another with a 63-yard pass to Art Graham. Parilli scored that one himself.

San Diego had a pair of candidates in Keith Lincoln and Paul Lowe, who led the Chargers to a 27-0 romp over Houston in a game that had been billled as a preview of the AFL title game. The efeat knocked Houston into a tie with Boston.

Beathard Takes Fabulous Offer From N F L Club

DETROIT (AP)—Kansas City snagged the Detroit Lions' top National Football League draft choice because the bidding was too rich — even for millionaire owner William Clay Ford.

"Lamar Hunt (oil millionaire owner of the American Football League franchise at Kansas City) apparently was prepared to go first cabin all the way," Ford said Wednesday. He made the comment after Kansas City landed quarterback Pete Beathard of Southern California.

"But he's welcome to the boy," Ford added. "It's good riddance for us at those prices."

Admittedly stunned by the deal Beathard made for himself, Ford said he "wouldn't dare match an offer" like Kansas City's. He described it as "exorbitant and unrealistic."

According to Ford, the rival AFL club beat out the Lions by handing Beathard:

1. A bonus in excess of $15,000 for signing.
2. A no-cut contract calling for more than $20,000 a year.
3. A paid-up life insurance policy.
4. Option on shares of stock in a West Coast pay-TV corporation, cost of which would be financed by Kansas City.
5. A new car.
6. Free rent in an apartment for an unspecified duration, but presumably for no less than a year.

The Lions reportedly went as high as a $20,000 contract offer in their attempts to land Beathard, their No. 1 choice in last Monday's NFL draft and Kansas City's top pick in the AFL draft last Saturday.

Kelso Named Horse Of Year

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — To the surprise of nobody, Kelso from Mrs. Richard C. duPont's Bohemia Stable was named today as America's champion throughbred race horse for the fourth straight year by the Thoroughbred Racing Associations.

Kelso also was the chosen Horse of the Year in a poll conducted by Turf and Sports Digest, completing his sweep of the balloting.

The swift - running gelding, who needs only $168,167 to pass Round Table as the world's leading money winning horse, began his reign as a 3-year-old in 1960. He was the unanimous choice of the TRA Board of Selection this year.

His earnings of $569,762 this season brought his life-time bankroll to $1,581,702 for 31 victories in 45 starts.

Kelso's only out-of-the money performance this year was in his debut in the seven-furlong Palm Beach Handicap at Hialeah Park, when he was fourth back of Ridan, Jaipur and Merry Ruler.

He went on to win nine races, carrying as much as 134 pounds under handicap conditions. At one stage he put together a string of eight straight stakes victories, including an unprecedented fourth straight victory in the two miles of the Jockey Club Gold Cup.

Baseball Owners Rapped; Players Seek New Rules

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two outspoken Dodgers, Don Drysdale and Lee Walls, accused major league club owners of short-sightedness today because of their failure to give wholehearted support to the players' plea to lengthen the big league careers of veterans.

The star right-hander and veteran utility player also tore into the controversial first year player rule which they charged was hurting attendance in particular and baseball in general.

They gave their views about the same time that the Detroit Tigers traded pitcher Jim Bunning and catcher Gus Triandos to the Philadelphia Phillies for outfielder Don Demeter and pitcher Jack Hamilton.

"The first year player rule, which clogs up the big league rosters with inexperienced, unproven kids not only deprives proven veteran players of their livelihood but is unfair to the baseball loving fans," declared Walls, the Dodgers' player representative and a member of the player-owner executive council.

Drysdale, a top flight star only 26 years of age who has no fear of losing his job, was equally vehement against the rule which shunts veterans to the minors in favor of kids.

"It's a harmful rule," he said. "It helps nobody and hurts everybody. It hurts the veterans, the kids, the owners, the public. But most of all, it hurts baseball."

The athletes' complaints were issued following the player representatives meeting with the owners Wednesday in which they urged their bosses to give their eight-year veterans a break.

In a formal resolution, they asked that clubs increase their 25-player roster to 26, the extra player being at least an eight-year veteran.

This, the players felt would give more protection to some of the older players who have been shippped to the minors to make room for the one-year rookies who must be kept on the big league roster because of the first-year player rule.

"The owners told us they would consider it," said Walls, "but the indication was clear, at least to me, they weren't in a mood to go along with us. They are opposed to it because it would cost them a total of around $320,000 more in salary by keeping an additional 20 players."

Big Ten Cuts Athletic Aid

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten is expected to act formally on a new athletic recruiting measure today.

Faculty representatives and athletic directors are to vote on a plan limiting tenders of financial aid. It was adopted last October but was sent back to individual schools for approval. The new vote is to officially certify it as part of the Big Ten policy.

The plan sets a limit of 70 accepted scholarship tenders for each conference member per year. Of this total, a maximum of 30 is established for football, five for basketball and 35 for other sports. The present limit is a total of 80.

Babe Parilli Is Top Player

NEW YORK (AP) — Babe Parilli heard the boo birds Sunday in the first half. He also must have seen the writing on the wall with the morning papers headlining the news that the Boston Patriots had drafted young Jack Concannon of Boston College for 1964.

With the fans yelling "We want (Tom) Yewcik", Parilli gathered the Patriots together and led them to a 17-7 victory over the Buffalo Bills that boosted Boston into a tie for the lead in the Eastern Division of the American Football League.

On the strength of that second half comeback, Parilli was named today Associated Press Player of the Week in the American Football League.

The Babe threw a touchdown pass to Larry Garron for 44 yards and set up another with a 63-yard pass to Art Graham. Parilli scored that one himself.

San Diego had a pair of candidates in Keith Lincoln and Paul Lowe, who led the Chargers to a 27-0 romp over Houston in a game that had been billled as a preview of the AFL title game. The efeat knocked Houston into a tie with Boston.

In Memoriam

Leisner

In loving memory of Sophie Leisner, who passed away one year ago December 5, 1962.

Do not ask us if we miss her,
For there's such a vacant place,
Oft' We think we hear her footsteps
Or we see her smiling face.
For she left us broken hearted
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they so little know the sorrow
That is in our heart concealed.

In Memoriam

Leisner

In loving memory of Sophie Leisner, who passed away one year ago December 5, 1962.

Do not ask us if we miss her,
For there's such a vacant place,
Oft' We think we hear her footsteps
Or we see her smiling face.
For she left us broken hearted
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they so little know the sorrow
That is in our heart concealed.

Trooper Placed On Probation In Larceny Case

DETROIT (AP) — A former state police lieutenant — who admitted he stole about $5,000 but refused to take a lie detector test on whether he took more — is serving the first six months of four years' probation in the Detroit House of Correction.

Carl W. Robinson, 46, a former detective lieutenant in command of the State Police rackets squad, drew the probationary sentence Tuesday from Recorder's (Criminal) Judge Joseph A. Gillis. He could have been sentenced to five years imprisonment.

"Because he was a cop, I couldn't send him to Jackson," Gillis said. "He might get killed.

"In his 23 years as an honest officer," Gillis said, "he sent a lot of guys to Jackson who would be more than willing to kill him."

Robinson pleaded guilty Oct. 25 to a charge of larceny by conversion. Originally he had been charged with the more serious crime of embezzlement.

Judge Gillis said he was "not completely satisfied" with presentence reports of probation officers, adding that they showed a $17,000 shortage.

"Either Robinson took more," Judge Gillis said, "or there are four or five other state policemen still stealing."

Stories Banned

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia, (AP) — The Cambodian government banned the American news magazines Time and Newsweek today, charging they had committed "critical acts of injury against the Cambodian government."

The announcement did not specify which stories in the two magazines were considered objectionable. But presumably the ban stemmed from the coverage of the rejection of U.S. aid by Cambodia's ruler, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, on Nov. 18.

Plant Flooded

MONROE (AP) — Some 450 production workers were sent home from the Ford Motor Co. plant near here Wednesday after water from a broken line flooded the basement. Operations were expected to resume today.

Costs Are Cut At Studebaker

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Studebaker Corp. has eliminated more than 2,000 jobs as part of a cost - cutting program in its automobile division, Byers A. Burlingame, firm president, said Tuesday.

"I am determined to return Studebaker Corp. to a profitable operating basis," he declared.

Burlingame said the automobile division, trying to reduce its "break-even point," is realigning production rates to dealer requirements.

The other 12 divisions of Studebaker, a diversified company, are operating profitably, Burlingame said.

A total of 1,737 hourly workers' jobs and 325 salaried positions were eliminated, cutting hourly employment in the automobile division to 5,200.

Studebaker assembly lines, shut down all this week, will start again next week at a rate of 35 vehicles, an hour, compared with 60 an hour at the start of the 1964 model run in September.

Burlingame said the program includes "stringent cost and expense reductions" in the auto division, concentration of field sales personnel, curtailment of bidding on defense contracts, and cost reductions in all phases of home office operation.

Traffic Deaths For 10 Months Exceed 35,000

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths in the first 10 months in 1963, with a record high for October, totaled more than 35,000, the National Safety Council reports.

Highway fatalities in October totaled 4,000, topping the previous October high of 3,985 in 1936. The toll, the third highest ever recorded for one month, compared with 3,880 in October last year.

The council said 35,170 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents from Jan. 1 to Nov. 1, an increase of 5 per cent over the 33,420 for the corresponding period last year.

Eye Clot May Cancel Bob Hope Overseas Trip

Hope has deferred final plans for his final trip until doctors tell him whether he should go. The comedian had planned to visit Greece, Turkey, Cyprus, Crete and Libya.

Two weeks ago, Hope went to New York for an examination of his eye. He faces minor surgery.

Studebaker assembly lines, shut down all this week, will start again next week at a rate of 35 vehicles, an hour, compared with 60 an hour at the start of the 1964 model run in September.

Burlingame said the program includes "stringent cost and expense reductions" in the auto division, concentration of field sales personnel, curtailment of bidding on defense contracts, and cost reductions in all phases of home office operation.

Traffic Deaths For 10 Months Exceed 35,000

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths in the first 10 months in 1963, with a record high for October, totaled more than 35,000, the National Safety Council reports.

Highway fatalities in October totaled 4,000, topping the previous October high of 3,985 in 1936. The toll, the third highest ever recorded for one month, compared with 3,880 in October last year.

The council said 35,170 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents from Jan. 1 to Nov. 1, an increase of 5 per cent over the 33,420 for the corresponding period last year.

Eye Clot May Cancel Bob Hope Overseas Trip

Hope has deferred final plans for his final trip until doctors tell him whether he should go. The comedian had planned to visit Greece, Turkey, Cyprus, Crete and Libya.

Two weeks ago, Hope went to New York for an examination of his eye. He faces minor surgery.
